Cayuga Batters Korean Harbor

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's destroyer Cayuga has carried out a successful bombardment of harbor installations of a Communist-held port in South Korea, the navy announced today.

It was the first official report that the three-ship flotilla provided by Canada for the United Nations has fired its guns at enemy positions. They had been on convoy duty.

The navy said the Cayuga, senior ship of the three, joined a British frigate in pouncing on a harbor and blazing away at ships, docks, cranes, warehouses, railway rolling stock and rail terminals and large buildings.

There were no casualties. All targets were either destroyed or seriously damaged.

More U.S. Troops Sought For Defence Of Europe

PARIS (AP)—U.S. officials in France are pressing Washington for a solid promise of aid to Europe in the form of United States troops to build up sagging West European spirits.

Their proposals are double-barrelled:

1—The United States should deliver at once, or promise to deliver quickly, at least five more divisions on European soil.

2—A commander, preferably American, should be appointed to unify present undirected efforts at rearmament.

The same officials believe Britain also should agree, now, to send five more divisions to Germany or northern France.

The crisis in Korea has brought the American position in France to a low point. The first blush of gratification at American intervention in Korea has been succeeded by a wave of dismay at U.S. reverses.

The French long have expected the strength of American arms—especially the atom bomb—to give them time to get well from the last war, and to rearm.

Americans newly arrived on this side of the Atlantic report that the defeats in Korea have hardened American determination to rearm and, if necessary, to be ready for a showdown with Russia.

There has been no such reaction in France. Top French government officials are facing the problem to a degree that generally is pleasing to American observers. But a sampling of sentiment among the French population, brings no such responses.

The lack of a "will to fight," such as resulted in the French collapse of 1940, is in evidence again. Many Frenchmen solemnly weigh these alternatives:

Would another war be worse than simply to sit down and wait to be occupied by the Russians? Or would it be better to try to take a neutral course in the hope that Russia would not march into France?

The philosophy of "sit and wait" is widespread in France.

The French appear to have lost confidence in aerial bombardment—even with the atom bomb—as a means of stopping ground forces. The Korean experiences have helped bring that, and the French continue to remember how long it took the United States to get into the last two wars.

Giant Planes Blast Massed Red Force

North Koreans Flee Front As 850 Tons Of Bombs Scream Down

By RELMAN MORIN

TOKYO (AP)—North Korean troops massed near Waegwan on the Naktong River fighting front were reported running in all directions today after 98 U.S. B-29 bombers plastered them with more than 850 tons of bombs.

Associated Press correspondent Leif Erickson said two observation pilots brought back the reports.

The largest raid of the war struck at an estimated 60,000 Red troops massed for an assault on the allied east bank of the Naktong River near Waegan.

The observer pilots said the Reds were crossing back westward over the Naktong and fleeing west and north in small groups ranging from three and four to 15 men in a group.

Maj.-Geen. Earle E. Partridge, U.S. 5th Air Force commander who flew over the raided area in an observation plane after the big strike, reported he saw a small group of Red soldiers fleeing "in the right direction."

Another pilot said the North Koreans he could spot appeared "dazed and demoralized." They appeared to be in a state of "complete confusion."

The pilots noted that the Reds wading back across the Naktong were fleeing from an area that had not been hit by the B-29's.

The enemy troops took cover when the light observation planes skimmed over the treetops. No shot was fired at them.

Two explosions sent columns of water into the air at the point on the Naktong where the North Koreans had constructed an underwater, Russian-type tank bridge. The bridge also had been used to move Red artillery to the east bank of the Allied river barrier.

The American fliers were unable to tell whether the explosions were from American shells or whether the North Koreans were exploding demolition charges," correspondent Erickson reported.

The pilots said North Koreans fled without their packs or rifles. They were about four miles west of the river when the U.S. airmen spotted them.

HUNTING 7 TANKS

Erickson said the pilots had been sent over the river area hunting for seven camouflaged North Korean tanks near the west bank.

Five of the seven tanks were knocked out, they reported, but not as a result of the big B-29 raid.

The airmen said they were unable to find any trace of a Red armored column previously reported partly concealed on the west side of the river.

Where there had been medium heavy anti-aircraft fire in the past, the American fliers encountered no ack-ack late Wednesday.

The massive air strike Wednesday was the only big activity reported from the whole Korean war front.

There was a lull in all other sectors.

During Tuesday night the Communists had put a force of two or three battalions across the Naktong at Hyonpong, 12 miles southwest of Taegu, the South Korean republic's emergency capital:

The fighting slowed in the Red Changnyong bridgehead, 23 miles southwest of Taegu, where the U.S. 24th Infantry Division has been attacking and fighting off counterattacks.

Several Ways Reds Find Casualty Replacements

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — How can the Korean Red army have casualties estimated at more than 40,000, yet continue to strike hard and have far more men than when it started?

There are several explanations, some obvious and some assumptions, among them these:

1. Conscription of men in both North and South Korea, a practice used widely in Asiatic wars, has replaced battlefield losses and swelled the over-all strength.

2. Manpower may be filtering down from Manchuria and from Communist China, fed into Red Army units in small but steady numbers to augment the North Korean force.

3. The estimates of Red casualties may be too high. Perhaps the original estimate of 90,000 to 100,000 men in the Red army at the start of the war was too low. There may have been many troops in reserve that are just being sent into action.

Last week the United Nations command in Korea sent to U.S. defence headquarters in Washington an estimate of about 37,500 casualties for the Communist forces. Communiques since then contain figures totaling about 3,000 more.

For 50 days of fighting by an original force of 100,000 men, that would be a high rate. But it is not at all impossible that the Communists have been able to replace them from the manpower pool in and outside Korea, using the conscription method and providing little or no training of such "recruits."

A dispatch from Tokyo Tuesday said 15 Communist divisions, with a total strength of possibly 150,000 men, have been identified in and around the Korean front.

That would indicate that the enemy not only has made a net increase of about 50,000 in his manpower strength, but has doubled the number of his combat units. His original force was reported to have been composed of seven divisions and five brigades. He could have formed some of these brigades into divisions.

'Pears like that headline was right about "Leopold Gets Throne Again." He sure did—and for another loss.

British Take 2 Americans From Batory

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng. (UP)—British authorities removed two irregular American travelers from the Polish liner Batory today when it arrived from New York.

William J. Newton, who was picked up at sea from a rented seaplane, and Howard Campbell, a stowaway, were placed under "detention," authorities said, pending their return to the U.S. Aug. 30 on the same ship.

The Batory, on which Communist fugitive Gerhardt Eisler stowed away when he jumped bail and fled the U.S., was thoroughly searched for atomic bombs on its last trip to New York.

On the return trip to Europe last week Capt. Jan Swiklinski of the Batory reported that Newton landed alongside his ship about 100 miles out of New York. Newton said he had lost his way and run out of gas and oil.

In a radio-telephone interview with a London newspaper, Newton said he was not a Communist and was not fleeing from the U.S.

Immigration officials said Campbell was a "professional stowaway." His last free trip, they said, was on the Queen Elizabeth.

The Batory's captian said Campbell came out of hiding when the ship was one day at sea and said, "I'm hungry. I want food."

British authorities boarded the Batory two miles outside this port. Scotland Yard special branch officials who deal with subversive elements questioned both men and turned them over to immigration officials.

No American officials took part in the questioning.

Talks Fail As Refuse Mounts In Hamilton

Civic Employees' Strike Deadlocked

HAMILTON (CP)—Another week of steadily-mounting piles of garbage.

That was the prospect facing Hamilton's 190,000 residents today following breakdown of talks between the city and representatives of striking Local 5 of the Hamilton Civic Employees' Union (C.C.L.).

The two parties met in Toronto Tuesday with the Ontario Labor Department in an attempt to reach a settlement in the seven-day strike. They remained deadlocked on the union's demands for higher wages and shorter hours.

William Patterson, president of the union local, said after the meeting the breakdown meant at least another week before the strike could be ended.

"It's a deadlock now," Patterson said. "The city broke off negotiations. They walked out of the conference first after we made our counter-proposal."

Some 1,000 city employees, including grave-diggers, garbage collectors and other outside workers, struck last week for an increase of 10 cents an hour. Since then, the city has had no garbage collection, and bodies have had to be stored in mausoleums awaiting burial.

Mayor Lloyd Jackson said the city made "a generous offer" Tuesday in an attempt at settlement. He said the city gave the union specific dates for inauguration of a 40-hour week, and also a cost-of-living bonus.

100-Mile Gale Slowly Veering To U.S. Shores

MIAMI (UP)—A tropical hurricane churned at row-boat speed across the Atlantic today on a course still aimed at the U.S. mainland.

As its forward movement slowed the big tower of turbulent air whirled its centre winds at more than 100 miles an hour and sent gales whistling over the waves 100 miles from its centre.

At 5.30 a.m. E.D.T., it was about 740 miles due east of Palm Beach, Fla., and was still moving northwestward in the direction of the eastern coast.

Navy hurricane hunter planes will fly through the big blow again today to get a better check on its location and strength.

"Highest winds near the centre are about 100 miles per hour," the weather bureau said. "Continued very slow movement is expected in the next 12 to 18 hours, probably in a northwesterly direction." Caution is advised all shipping in the vicinity.

Weathermen emphasized that changes in atmospheric conditions could easily steer the storm away from the mainland.

Ban On Shipment Of Perishables Thursday

OTTAWA (CP)—The cabinet went into session this morning with its most urgent business the consideration of action to halt the threatened Aug. 22 rail strike.

The meeting, convening with less than six days to go before the strike deadline, was expected to bring a government move of some kind aimed at breaking the union-management deadlock.

Cabinet ministers entering the session said the rail situation would be high on the day's agenda. They could not estimate when a decision would be reached.

The crisis was brought sharply into focus today when the Railway Association of Canada announced that all freight and express agents in Canada that the shipment of all livestock and perishable goods will cease at 11.59 p.m. Aug. 17.

From that date, no shipment of such goods will be accepted, the association said.

Labor Minister Gregg arrived for today's cabinet meeting before most of his colleagues. All available ministers were at the session.

There were no indications of a settlement from the disputants themselves — the railways and the unions representing 124,000 employees that have scheduled a strike for wage and hours concessions.

OVERNIGHT RECESS

The strike, which would paralyze rail transport, was under discussion by cabinet at a session that lasted four and one-quarter hours Tuesday. The ministers recessed overnight to reach a decision today.

One strong report here was that the eventual decision would be to ask the railways to set a definite date in the future—likely two years from now—for bringing into effect the 40-hour week with unreduced take-home pay sought by the employees.

Prime Minister St. Laurent, asked after Tuesday's cabinet meeting if the report were correct, declined to comment on it.

But indications were shaping up that the question of the timing of the 40-hour week might be the remaining major barrier to a settlement.

The unions have asked the 40-hour week with the same pay as 48 hours, plus an hourly increase of seven or 10 cents. The railways' "final" offer, delivered last week, was for a 44-hour week with unreduced pay and a recognition that the 40-hour week should be put in at the "appropriate time" in the future.

This has been rejected by the 15 international and two Canadian unions involved, but there have been developing signs that the unions would be inclined to settle for the proferred 44-hour week with an assurance of the 40-hour arrangement at some specific later date.

For that, it is reported here, they would forego the straight hourly wage increase.

Quake Hits East India In World-Wide Shock

By Reuter News Agency

Scientists studied jumbled records on five seismographs today to determine the centre and direction of a deep earthquake that struck India with near-record force for two hours Tuesday.

The quake hit with a force put at 8.4—only 1.6 points below total-destruction intensity.

In eastern India women and children ran screaming into the streets, where they huddled and prayed with their menfolk until the last shiver of the earth's crust had passed. Reports so far have not mentioned casualties.

The shocks were recorded on seismographs around the world.

It was one of the five greatest earthquakes on record.

Cables from Calcutta said there were reports of heavy damage in Siliguri, West Bengal, 30 miles southeast of the big tea town of Darjeeling. There were no details.

Calcutta itself shivered for a full minute as the shocks swept through Assam, Burma, Bihar and the eastern United Provinces.

Seismologists in North America Australia, Europe and South America reported their instruments hard hit.

The quake was described as "terrific," with instruments going at a "dizzy pace."

The centre was tentatively put at the northern tip of Burma, near the China border, by U.S. Coast and Geodetic survey scientists.

The shocks caused seismographs in Colaba Observatory in Bombay to break down.

BRITONS HAVE FUN

Name For Princess New Guessing Game

LONDON (AP)—Happy Britons had a favorite new guessing game today—naming their new princess.

The newest member of Britain's Royal family is the second child of the 24-year-old Elizabeth and her naval-officer husband, Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh. Their son, Prince Charles, is 21 months old.

There was no indication that England's future queen and her husband have decided on a name for their new baby, but they are getting plenty of suggestions. Most newspapers already are speculating.

The favorites seemed to be Victoria, Anne, Elizabeth and Mary—all familiar names in the family. There was strong support also for Alice, Alexandra and Margaret.

Also mentioned among many others were Caroline, a feminine version of Charles, and Angela, Queen Elizabeth's middle name. The new princess, like the rest of the Royal family, probably will have several names.

Even if the baby's parents have made a choice, it may not be announced for several weeks.

Swedish Navy Asks For Anti-Sub Ships

STOCKHOLM (Reuter) — Sweden needs light vessels to meet "the submarine menace," the Swedish navy said Tuesday night in a request for additional shipbuilding appropriations. "Destroyers are suitable but could not be assigned to continuel submarine chasing as conditions now demand. A large number of light vessels is therefore needed," the navy said.

Cayuga Batters Harbor Held By Reds In Korea

SHIP FROM ESQUIMALT FIRST OF CANADIANS TO JOIN ACTUAL BATTLE

Victorian Commended On Taking Initiative

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's destroyer Cayuga has carried out a successful bombardment of harbor installations of a Communist-held port in South Korea, the navy announced today.

It was the first official report that the three-ship flotilla provided by Canada for the United Nations has fired its guns at enemy positions. They had been on convoy duty.

The navy said the Cayuga, senior ship of the three, joined a British frigate in pouncing on a harbor and blazing away at ships, docks, cranes, warehouses, railway rolling stock and rail terminals and large buildings.

There were no casualties. All targets were either destroyed or seriously damaged.

Of other activities, the navy made this report:

Recently the Cayuga, under Capt. J. V. Brock of Victoria, was ordered to make a high-speed sweep in the western area to investigate a reported build-up of enemy troops. The Athabaskan, commanded by Cmdr. R. P. Welland of McCreary, Man., and Victoria, intercepted orders while at sea and without specific instructions, joined her sister ship and assisted in the sweep. Cmdr. Welland was later commended for his initiative in this action.

The Sioux, under Cmdr. Paul D. Taylor of Victoria, and the Athabaskan are at present engaged in screening Royal Navy forces carrying out a blockade patrol off the west coast of Korea.

The Sioux recently completed a trip to Pusan, main U.N. supply port in South Korea, with a high-speed convoy. The Athabaskan has completed three voyages to the same port on similar duties. The Cayuga has carried out two such missions and has spent four days with the west coast blockading forces.

Cabinet Meets On Railway Strike As Deadline Nears

Coast May Be Without Beef In Few Days If Livestock Ban Holds

From CP and BUP Dispatches

OTTAWA (CP)—The cabinet sat for two hours and 50 minutes this morning and then recessed without announcing what action, if any, the government may be planning to meet the railway strike threat.

The session, a continuation of one started yesterday, was continuing again this afternoon.

Emerging from the meeting at 1.20 p.m., Prime Minister St. Laurent said there would be no announcement at least until after this afternoon's session.

The Prime Minister would not say directly whether the ministers had dealt with the railway situation.

The crisis was brought sharply into focus today when the Railway Association of Canada announced to all freight and express agents in Canada that the shipment of all livestock and perishable goods will cease at 11.59 p.m. Aug. 17.

From that date, no shipment of such goods will be accepted, the association said.

NO PERISHABLES

The Pacific Coast would be faced with a beef shortage within a few days of the starting of the strike.

Packinghouse men in Vancouver, commenting on the ban shipments of livestock and perishables agreed that beef would be the first shortage on the west coast.

Packers predicted that there would be a shortage of beef "within a week" unless the strike is settled before the Tuesday deadline.

At present British Columbia beef is not ready for market and the usual supply from Calgary would be cut off, bringing about a shortage quickly.

Today's cabinet meeting, convening with less than six days to go before the strike deadline, was expected to bring a government move of some kind aimed at breaking the union-management deadlock.

Cabinet ministers entering the session said the rail situation would be high on the day's agenda. They could not estimate when a decision would be reached.

Labor Minister Gregg arrived before most of his colleagues. All available ministers were at the session.

NO PEACE SIGN

There were no indications of a settlement from the disputants themselves — the railways and the unions representing 124,000 employees that have scheduled a strike for wage and hours concessions.

PORK PRICES RISE TWO TO THREE CENTS

Pork prices are up two to three cents a pound today following a boost in dressed hog prices, butchers here reported today.

Most stores are selling pork chops at 75 to 83 cents a pound.

While prices increased across Canada, few are paying as much as Victorians for meat. In Winnipeg pork chops currently are 55 cents a pound, up five cents this week.

NANAIMO (CP) — A spherical object was seen flashing across the sky above Cassidy airport here at 9.43 this morning.

Art Vanderlip, limousine driver, also saw the object.

Think Couple From Toronto May Have Fled

TORONTO (BUP)—Police said today a school-teacher and his thrice-divorced pupil, reported missing and possibly murdered, might be bound for Australia instead of the hereafter.

An investigation into the disappearance of 38-year-old Alfred Greene, father of four, and four-times-married Beatrice Reason, 31, disclosed both had transferred funds to Australia before they vanished eight days ago.

Mrs. Reason, who met Greene at Danforth High School night classes and learned more from him at his home after school, was born in Australia. She came to Canada by way of Britain.

Detectives asked Vancouver, B.C., officers to check outgoing passenger lists and particularly to watch the first Australia-bound liner scheduled to leave there Aug. 31. Police in Montreal also were asked to co-operate.

The pair was reported missing eight days ago under circumstances that indicated foul play. Greene's automobile was found abandoned in a Toronto ravine. The seats were bloodstained, but detectives believed this might have been a "blind" to throw them off the trail.

Meanwhile Greene's wife tearfully reiterated her appeal that he return home where bills steadily piled up in his absence. It was reported his family faced financial hardship because their money was banked in his name.

MAIL ACCEPTED UNTIL STRIKE

B-29'S BREAK UP MASSED RED FORCE

Nursing Home Operator Saves Blazing Patient

A 75-year-old patient at Fernwood Nursing Home, his clothing ablaze, was saved from a burning death Tuesday night by Joe Sirdinski, operator of the establishment.

Both Sirdinski and the aged man, Colin W. L. Chalmers, are in Royal Jubilee Hospital, the latter completely swathed in bandages and with burns covering 80 per cent of the area of his body.

Sitting in one of the downstairs rooms with his wife, shortly after 10, Mr. Sirdinski suddenly heard cries coming from an upstairs room.

Rushing upstairs, he found Chalmers groping blindly in the hallway, his clothes a blazing inferno.

Acting quickly, Mr. Sirdinski wrapped blankets around Chalmers in an effort to smother the blaze. While he was doing this, Mrs. Sirdinski rushed up with a bucket of water.

Mr. Sirdinski's burns were described by hospital authorities as deeper and, therefore, more severe.

DOZED OFF

According to Mrs. Sirdinski, Chalmers was sitting in his chair reading and smoking a cigarette. He had evidently dozed for a moment when he woke up startled to find his chair and dressing gown was on fire.

He always kept his door closed, but the shouts were loud enough to be heard by the Sirdinskis.

"I think when he stepped into the hallway, the rush of air fanned the flame into a blaze," Mrs. Sirdinski said.

"The funny part was there was no fire in the room, it was just the chair and his clothing," she added. "It was a good thing my husband acted so quickly."

The Sirdinskis had been operating the home, located at 2517 Fernwood Road, for the past three years.

Good Toronto Spurns '3 Sailors, Floozies'

TORONTO — The Canadian National Exhibition has been asked by Mayor Hiram McCallum to withdraw the painting, "Sailors and Floozies," by Paul Cadmus, New York artist, from its art gallery.

Three Cabinet Appointments In Manitoba

WINNIPEG (CP) — Premier Douglas Campbell today announced three cabinet appointments—one of them caused by the resignation of Errick Willis as Minister of Public Works.

Mr. Willis, provincial Progressive Conservative leader, quit the cabinet because of disagreement with Mr. Campbell.

He is succeeded by William Morton who will continue to hold the office as Minister of Public Utilties.

Education Minister C. Rhodes is appointed Attorney-General, succeeding the late J. O. McLenaghen, a Progressive Conservative. Mr. Smith, as Mr. Morton, is a Liberal-Progressive — the party which Premier Campbell heads and which dominates the coalition.

Speaker Wallace C. Miller, a Progressive Conservative who has announced he will not follow his leader out of the government, becomes Minister of Education.

No replacement Speaker was named in Premier Campbell's statement.

ESTIMATE TOO LOW

Korea Force Recruits Increasing Steadily

OTTAWA (CP)—Recruits are coming in faster than ever for the army's special force, Defence Headquarters reported today.

Tuesday saw another 765 added to its enlistment total to make the over-all number enlisted in the first seven days 3,792. In addition, another 885 are in the process of being attested, meaning that the force now has roughly 4,600 men.

There never has been any official public estimate of the size of the brigade group that will fight aggression in Korea or elsewhere, but it is expected to run to around 5,000 men.

However, Defence Minister Claxton said Tuesday night it will recruit beyond its own immediate requirements so as to guarantee reinforcements.

The army said today it had anticipated that recruiting now would level off at around 500 men a day but it was away out in its estimation.

(In Victoria, however, the number of recruits for the special brigade declined considerably this week. Five men have joined the regular active force while four have joined the special force.)

The army said 1,026 new applications came forward Tuesday, raising the figure to 12,701 for the regular and special forces since the twin recruiting drives started.

CONGRATULATIONS FROM B.C. FOLK TO PRINCESS

Text of a congratulatory message to Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh, on the birth of their daughter, from the province of British Columbia was made known today at the offices of Premier Byron Johnson.

The message, forwarded to the Secretary of State for External Affairs, reads:

"On behalf of the government and people of British Columbia would you please convey to Her Royal Highness Princess Elizabeth and His Royal Highness the Duke of Edinburgh our warmest felicitations upon the birth of their daughter.

"The people of British Columbia rejoice greatly over this happy event and wish to share with Their Royal Highnesses the delight that is theirs on this most auspicious occasion.

"This message of congratulations is accompanied by our sincere pledge of continued loyalty to the British Throne."

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

PLAQUES AND POLITICIANS

ON SATURDAY evening I officiated at the unveiling of a handsome plaque placed on the wall of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Government Street, by the B.C. Historical Association and the provincial government, to commemorate this historic site. On it once stood one of the two main buildings in the old Hudson's Bay Company stockade, which became Fort Victoria in 1843, and in which the first school and the first Legislative Assembly of the Crown Colony of Vancouver's Island was held.

And here may I interject the hope this column will help to allay the suspicions of passing motorists and others who apparently mistook the little crowd on the corner of Fort and Government for a gathering of Jehovah's Witnesses or "hot gospellers," so hurriedly did they veer away from us!

COLONIAL SCHOOL

AT THE CEREMONY, reference was made to the old school conducted within the Hudson's Bay stockade by Rev. and Mrs. Robert Staines, who came out from England to take on that pioneering task, as well as look after the spiritual needs of the community, for the Company. Mr. Staines was drowned while on his way home to England on leave, and was succeeded by Rev. Edward Cridge, we were told by Rev. T. H. Laundy.

He also spoke of the early days of the Bank of British Columbia, predecessor of the present bank, and whose crest is still to be seen above the main entrance. The head office was in London and although the local manager had a good deal of authority, everything was finally passed on in England —a slow process in those days of pioneer communication.

FIRST ASSEMBLY

WHILE INTERESTED in that chapter of the pioneer history of Victoria, I was even more interested in the story of the first parliamentary gathering of the Crown Colony, recalled by the tablet. From 1850 to 1851, the government of the colony was administered by Governor Richard Blanchard without the aid of either Council or Assembly.

Then, from 1851 to 1856, Governor James Douglas—later Sir James—administered it with the assistance of a Legislative Council, the three or four members of which held their commissions directly from the Crown. But from 1856 to 1866, the evolution of the Colonial government was carried a step further, the governor being assisted by a Legislative Council and a House of Assembly.

EARLY LEGISLATORS

CONDITIONS created by the discovery of gold on the mainland some years earlier had led to the necessity of increasing the administrative authority, and on August 12, 1856, the House of Assembly was called together in accordance with the explicit instruction of the Rt. Hon. Henry Labouchere, then Secretary of State for the Colonies.

The House consisted of only seven members: John Muir, Sooke; John Sebastian Helmcken and Thos Skinner, representing Esquimalt; J. D. Pemberton, James Yates, and E. E. Langford, Victoria, and John F. Kennedy, Nanaimo district—names all familiar to today's citizens, not only through their descendants but by their perpetuation in street names.

LOWER ORDERS UNINTERESTED

I WAS AMUSED to learn from the Archives that in reporting the proceedings to Mr. Labouchere in a dispatch dated August 20, 1856, Governor Douglas informed the Colonial Secretary:

> "The House of Assembly was opened on the 12th of the present month. The affair passed off quietly, and did not appear to excite much interest among the lower orders."

I love that bit about the "lower orders"; it is so very early Victorian! And, as I told my small audience the other evening, it shows how politics have changed in the last century. True, governors don't have to depend on elections, but woe betide any man or woman in public office today who alluded to the electorate as the lower orders.

'PARTY PURPOSES'

HOWEVER, the spice of party politics made itself felt, even in those early days of local parliamentary processes, as the opening address of Governor Douglas shows:

> "J. S. Helmcken has been elected Speaker of the House, but nothing further has been done, in consequence of objections having been raised to the validity of the election in one instance, and to the property qualification in two cases, making three out of the seven members against whose return petitions have been sent in, leaving only the Speaker and three members at liberty to act, and that number is insufficient to form a committee of inquiry, the House, therefore, hardly know how to get over the difficulty. One of the petitions is evidently got up for mere party purposes, and if that were withdrawn, there would be four members and the Speaker, who might proceed to regulate the affairs of the House."

Speakers evidently had their problems a hundred years ago, too!

Arena Differences May Go To Court

City Terminates Services Of Consulting Engineer

Difference between the city and Charles T. Hamilton, consulting engineer of the arena, may be aired in court it was suggested today following a private meeting called by Mayor Percy George in his office, late Tuesday, at which services of the engineer were terminated.

"The committee will now get specifications ready for repairs to the roof and try to get the work done as quickly as possible," Ald. Frank G. Mulliner, chairman, said today.

Ald. J. D. Hunter voted against termination. He said he felt council was morally obligated to inform Mr. Hamilton of contents of a report drawn up by Pacific Sheet Metal Works regarding arena roof repairs. If the city had supplied the report to Mr. Hamilton and the latter had disregarded it, then, said Ald. Hunter, he might have voted with council on the issue.

TO GET ADVICE

The special meeting empowered the arena committee to seek from architects or consulting engineers' advice in connection with any other possible defects in arena construction and where responsibility lay should other defects be exposed.

Herbert W. Davey, K.C., called in by te city for additional legal opinion on the arena question indicated the possibility of the city and Mr. Hamilton yet coming to legal grips. The latter, he said, had already consulted his own solicitors.

"The city and Mr. Hamilton are now at arm's length and it is open to both to take such action as is necessary to protect their positions," said Mr. Davey.

WARDROBE FOR BEAUTY QUEEN

NANAIMO (BUP) — Nanaimo's beauty queen will be a well-dressed young lady when she seeks honors at the "Miss P.N.E." contest in Vancouver.

The queen, still to be selected from eight Nanaimo contestants, will be given a complete outfit, the gift of lumber magnate H. R. MacMillan.

The contestants for the "Miss Nanaimo" title include Barbara Danderton, Audrey Bogart, Terry Hare, Glen Meickle, Mildred Norman Shirley Smedley, Irene Gordon and Rita Diedrichson.

2,000 Laugh At Donkey Ball Game

More than 2,000 laugh-seeking fans braved threatening weather last night to watch the city's firemen kick in, or rather be kicked in, for two runs, while the police force scored only one run to go down to defeat in the Camosun Gyro Club-sponsored donkey baseball game.

The donkeys proved to be just as obstinate as donkeys are reputed to me and both police and firemen had more than they could handle to get their mounts to see it their way.

The law had a slight measure of revenge when they won a donkey soccer game, 5 to 4.

The Victoria Girls' Pipe Band and the Chinese Drill Team gave displays.

Camosun and Victoria Gyro Clubs will play against the ex-basketball greats of the city tonight.

Someone is bound to get a kick out of it.

Alberta Polio Up

EDMONTON (CP)—Polio total in the province jumped to 29 Tuesday with the report of five new cases from district points. All victims are affected with a non-crippling variation of the disease, provincial health authorities said.

NOTICE TO MARINERS

Mariners today were advised of the following matters by T. E. Morrison, Department of Transport agent:

The light and whistling buoy, Esperanza Inlet, is out of position.

The spar buoy marking Hospital Rock in Chemainus Bay is reported missing.

The Hudson (West) Rocks light, Horsewell Channel, is now in operation.

More Cars On Road, Fewer Fatalities

Despite an increase of 13.8 per cent in the number of cars and trucks on B.C. roads, there was a drop of 27.37 per cent in the number of fatal accidents in the first six months of the year from the first half of last year.

Total number of accidents was 7,809, which is 311 less than the total to June 30 last year. Persons injured totaled 1,933, while last year the number was 1,950. Property damage was $1,551,073 which is 2.32 per cent above last year.

Horse Races At Parksville Draw 1,500

PARKSVILLE — Fifteen hundred persons watched the first horse races staged here in a quarter of a century.

There were 32 entries from various points on Vancouver Island competing for the trophies presented by local businessmen. Parksville majorettes in their colorful costumes led the parade of contestants, which preceded events.

R. S. Banks, president of the Silver Spur Horse and Riding Association, and Maj. E. J. Chaloner, president of Mount Arrowsmith Branch, Canadian Legion, gave the opening addresses.

Races run over the old race track near the community park, included flat and hurdle events. Mrs. G. Walker of Nanaimo and Jack McGuire of Cedar were judges; H. G. Pemberton was ringmaster, Art Cottrell, starter and T. E. Law, committee chairman.

Die In Air Collision

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Two U.S. Navy men were killed Tuesday when their Skyraider planes collided at an altitude of about 2,500 feet. Both craft exploded and burned when they hit the ground.

Canada Doubles Orders For Fast Jet Fighters

OTTAWA (BUP) — The air force has more than doubled its orders for speedy jet fighter planes to protect Canada against sneak bombing attacks, it was disclosed today.

A Defence Department source said a contract let some months ago for 100 F86 Sabre jets had been greatly increased and that another, for 10 twin-jet all-weather "Canucks," had been boosted twice.

Exact figures were withheld for security reasons, but the informant said they were more than twice the number originally planned before the Korean war began.

The F86 fighters have been described as among the world's fastest military combat planes not in the experimental stage. They are being manufactured by Canadair Ltd., in Montreal under license to an American firm. A. V. Roe Aircraft Co., is producing the Canucks in Ontario. The Canucks are primarily designed as long-distance night fighters. Both aircraft were recently flight tested at Montreal and were described by Defence Minister Brooke Claxton, who watched their performance, as "a fine complementary team."

Air Marshal W. A. Curtis, chief of the air staff, announced Tuesday night that the number of R.C.A.F. fighter squadrons would be increased "considerably beyond the total of five approved" by Parliament when it voted last session on Defence Department appropriations.

Curtis said all the squadrons would be outfitted with Canadian-built jets as soon as the planes came off assembly lines.

Face Charges In Bomb Accident

PEMBROKE, Ont. (CP)—Four airmen from the Rivers, Man., station and one army officer have been arrested in connection with a bomb explosion which injured three children at nearby Petawawa last week-end.

The men are LAC. Gordon Hunt, LAC. Albert J. Peters, and LAC. Willard E. Pyett, all from the Rivers Station, and Capt. Joe Liston of Petawawa military camp. Authorities said the four will be charged with criminal negligence and theft.

The servicemen were taken into custody Tuesday and bail was set at $500 cash or $1,000 property.

The explosion of a smoke grenade resulted in injuries to Donald McKay, 6, of Toronto, Johnny Binkley, 5, of Winnipeg and Derek Binkley, his cousin.

The children found the bomb Saturday while playing at Petawawa point—outside the camp grounds—after what was reported to be an outdoor party the night before.

NO SCREENING, SAYS MAYOR

VANCOUVER (BUP) — Vancouver will not screen its civic employees for "Communist" sympathizers, Mayor Charles Thompson announced today.

In any case, according to the mayor, a security check would come under Air Vice Marshal F. V. Heakes, civil defense co-ordinator for the city.

Fight Russia Next Time, Urges Stassen

WASHINGTON (UP)—Republican Harold E. Stassen has called for war with Russia if Soviet satellites try another Korea-style aggression anywhere.

Stassen said in a speech Tuesday night over the Columbia Broadcasting System that he does not advocate a "preventive war." But he said Moscow should be warned now that she will be held "directly responsible" for any further attack by any of her satellites "at any point in the world."

That policy, he said, should be proclaimed by Congressional resolution and then submitted to the veto-proof United Nations General Assembly for its approval.

Stassen said he does not consider a third world war inevitable. He expressed confidence a warning to Russia such as he advocates, plus an "idea and economic offensive" against Communism would give the United States "a better than even chance of winning a just world peace without incurring the horror of World War III."

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT

Stassen, now president of the University of Pennsylvania, formerly was Governor of Minnesota. He tried twice for the G.O.P. Presidential nomination.

He accompanied his blast at Russia with a partisan blow at the Truman administration, which he labeled as "one of the most incompetent in our nation's lifetime."

Cowichan Council Balks At Delays

DUNCAN — By-laws to allow continuation of works projects which have been held up by residents' differences, will be drafted by North Cowichan Council.

Council will proceed with widening of Gibbins Road, a project blocked by several residents for months. Councillors decided also that a new channel in Chemainus River below Mainguy Island would be forced through before they undertake to argue with land owners on the river bank.

Elected 'Miss Victoria, 1950'

Smiling Jackie Rhodes, 17-year-old resident of Ganges, Salt Spring Island, will be Miss Victoria, 1950, at opening of P.N.E. beauty contest in Vancouver Aug. 26.

P.N.E. Beauty Entrant Too Petrified To Talk

"I'm very happy and I'll try my best to . . . well, I'm just very happy."

Explaining her short speech following Mayor Percy George's announcement Tuesday night at the Sirocco Club that she had been judged winner of the Miss Victoria contest, 17-year-old Jacqueline Rhodes of Ganges, Salt Spring Island, said:

"I was just so petrified when my number was announced I didn't have a chance to think of my speech. It sure was a wonderful surprise."

First to congratulate "Jackie," as she prefers to be called, were the other four candidates, 18-year-old Ruth S. Lee, 838 Balmoral Street; Gwen V. Conarroe, 18, 844 Cormorant Street; Iola M. Gordon, 17, 477 Stannard Avenue and Marguerite J. McAdam, 16, of 1815 Chambers Street.

Then Mayor George called over attractive Maureen Smith, last year's winner, who presented Jackie with the Miss Victoria Perpetual Trophy.

PLANS BUSINESS COURSE

The daughter of Mrs. E. Dovey, winsome Jackie graduated from Salt Spring Consolidated School in June. She plans to go to Vancouver in September to take a business course.

At present, she is employed as a waitress at the Vesuvius Lodge, a summer resort on Salt Spring Island.

"I love it," she said. "This is my sixth summer there."

Jackie has one brother, Charlie, who is 10 months her junior. Asked if she had any boy friends, Jackie replied:

"Oh, yes!"

Her "ideal man" lived in Vancouver, and for that reason, she was especially looking forward to her trip there Aug. 26 to compete with contest winners from all parts of B.C. in the Pacific National Exhibition beauty contest.

To the winner of the P.N.E. contest goes an all-expenses paid trip to all the provincial capitals of Canada's 10 provinces, and the federal capital at Ottawa.

"I'm sure hoping," Jackie said.

British Take 2 Americans From Batory

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng. (UP)—British authorities removed two irregular American travelers from the Polish liner Batory today when it arrived from New York.

William J. Newton, who was picked up at sea from a rented seaplane, and Howard Campbell, a stowaway, were placed under "detention," authorities said, pending their return to the U.S. Aug. 30 on the same ship.

The Batory was thoroughly searched for atomic bombs on its last trip to New York.

On the return trip to Europe last week Capt. Jan Swiklinski of the Batory reported that Newton landed alongside his ship about 100 miles out of New York. Newton said he had lost his way and run out of gas and oil. . .

Immigration officials said Campbell was a "professional stowaway." His last free trip, they said, was on the Queen Elizabeth.

British authorities boarded the Batory two miles outside this port. Scotland Yard special branch officials who deal with subversive elements questioned both men and turned them over to immigration officials.

Swedish Navy Asks For Anti-Sub Ships

STOCKHOLM (Reuter)—Sweden needs light vessels to meet "the submarine menace," the Swedish navy said Tuesday night in a request for additional shipbuilding appropriations. "Destroyers are suitable but could not be assigned to continuel submarine chasing as conditions now demand. A large number of light vessels is therefore needed," the navy said.

BITTEN BY MULE

Sandy Coldwell, 1169 Yates Street, after winning a one-round boxing bout at Tuesday night's novelty show at Athletic Park, was bitten on the arm by a donkey tethered near the grand stand. He was treated by St. John Ambulance first aid man and taken home.

Hamilton Garbage Still On Streets

City Faces Another Week With Civic Services Strike-Idled

HAMILTON (CP)—Another week of steadily-mounting piles of garbage.

That was the prospect facing Hamilton's 190,000 residents today following breakdown of talks between the city and representatives of striking Local 5 of the Hamilton Civic Employees' Union (C.C.L.).

The two parties met in Toronto Tuesday with the Ontario Labor Department in an attempt to reach a settlement in the seven-day strike. They remained deadlocked on the union's demands for higher wages and shorter hours.

William Patterson, president of the union local, said after the meeting the breakdown meant at least another week before the strike could be ended.

"It's a deadlock now," Patterson said. "The city broke off negotiations. They walked out of the conference first after we made our counter-proposal."

Some 1,000 city employees, including grave-diggers, garbage collectors and other outside workers, struck last week for an increase of 10 cents an hour. Since then, the city has had no garbage collection, and bodies have had to be stored in mausoleums awaiting burial.

Mayor Lloyd Jackson said the city made "a generous offer" Tuesday in an attempt at settlement. He said the city gave the union specific dates for inauguration of a 40-hour week, and also a cost-of-living bonus.

India Centre Of Earthquake Widely Felt

By Reuter News Agency

Scientists studied jumbled records on five seismographs today to determine the centre and direction of a deep earthquake that struck India with near-record force for two hours Tuesday.

The quake hit with a force put at 8.4—only 1.6 points below total-destruction intensity.

In eastern India women and children ran screaming into the streets, where they huddled and prayed with their menfolk until the last shiver of the earth's crust had passed. Reports so far have not mentioned casualties.

The shocks were recorded on seismographs around the world.

It was one of the five greatest earthquakes on record.

Cables from Calcutta said there were reports of heavy damage in Siliguri, West Bengal, 30 miles southeast of the big tea town of Darjeeling. There were no details.

Costly Vacation For U.S. Tourist

VANCOUVER (BUP)—American tourist Mrs. H. H. Gambs, Oakland, Calif., has found her Canadian vacation expensive.

Mrs. Gambs reported to Vancouver city police that a $1,000 camera was stolen from her car while it stood on the Vancouver C.P.R. dock. She also lost four boxes of English china, which she had just purchased in Vancouver.

Grant Saanich Time Extension

City Council Tuesday acceded to Saanich's request for an extension to March 31 on the $75,000 settlement debt in connection with the northwest sewer.

Saanich wished to see the secession issue completed before submitting another by-law to the people. Victoria earlier had expressed itself willing to accept $75,000 in full settlement of the debt owing the corporation for use of the northwest sewer.

MORE MANPOWER

There are 250,000 more Canadian men available for military service in 1950 than there were in 1939.

BRITONS HAVE FUN

Name For Princess New Guessing Game

LONDON (AP)—Happy Britons had a favorite new guessing game today—naming their new princess.

The newest member of Britain's Royal family is the second child of the 24-year-old Elizabeth and her naval-officer husband, Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh. Their son, Prince Charles, is 21 months old.

There was no indication that England's future queen and her husband have decided on a name for their new baby, but they are getting plenty of suggestions. Most newspapers already are speculating.

The favorites seemed to be Victoria, Anne, Elizabeth and Mary—all familiar names in the family. There was strong support also for Alice, Alexandra and Margaret.

Congratulations Of The Nation

MEN AND WOMEN THROUGHOUT the Commonwealth and beyond will have heard with pleasure of the birth of a daughter to Princess Elizabeth. It is difficult to determine why, in addition to the obvious public concern for the birth of a Princess who is third in line for the Throne, and the usual congratulations common to any such event, there should be so intense a personal interest in such an arrival in the Royal Family. But the fact remains—to cheer British supporters everywhere and astound those of other nationalities who cannot fathom the phenomenon in this "century of the common man"—that the House of Windsor attracts an increasing warmth of affection and loyalty from citizens of the lands where the Union Jack, or a variation of it, continues to fly.

It is an attachment greater than any that could be explained through constitutional connection or imperial ties, or roused by economic or legal considerations. It represents a sentiment that could not be demanded or even entreated—a feeling that can only be extended through genuine regard based on respect and appreciation. That is not a common circumstance in this era of toppling thrones and changing social orders. It is all the more amazing, then, that the mid-point of the 20th Century finds the House of Windsor enjoying as great a measure of popular acclaim as it has in its history.

Shorn of political power through the growth of parliamentary government, the Throne nevertheless has lost nothing in influence on the daily lives of the people. It is a difficult feat to live in the glare of publicity, to serve as a standard of dignity and decency and the simple homely virtues of British family life; but it is a feat which the Royal Family is successfully performing year by year. It is on that basis that one may with confidence predict the future of the new Princess, and bring sincerity to wishes for the continued good health and good fortune of mother and child.

An Excellent Choice

WITH MANY YEARS OF EXPERIence as an able and successful industrial executive, and in the prime of life, Mr. Clarence Wallace will become the King's representative in the province of British Columbia at the beginning of October. The new appointment is being made earlier than expected; this is due to the fact that the present incumbent at Government House had decided some time ago that he would like to be relieved of his duties before the expiration of the constitutional term of five years. The federal government has acceded to His Honor's request. He and his wife will take with them the good wishes of all their friends.

Those who have been permitted to know Vancouver-born Clarence Wallace through the years — and his friends throughout the length and breadth of Canada are legion—have learned with pleasure that he has consented to accept the exacting duties attaching to the post of Lieutenant-Governor. The job is no sinecure. It demands a wealth of tact, a plentiful supply of the social graces, a capacity to be superlatively pleasant under the stresses of a personal headache—and to do those hundred and one things which the rigid terms of protocol require. With all these attributes, however, Mr. Wallace and his charming spouse have been liberally endowed. In other words, the Lieutenant-Governor-designate, being intensely human and schooled in the science of human relationships, can be depended upon to fill his post with the dignity and understanding demanded of such an official.

When And What Is 'Disruption'?

WHATEVER BRITISH COLUMBIANS may think of the absorption of the Provincial Police by the R.C.M.P.—and there are strong reasons for the step if not for the manner in which it was executed—they will hope for efficient administration under the new arrangement. The interests of law and order will be served by the extension of public co-operation to Assistant Commissioner A. T. Belcher in his new tasks.

Our citizens will be excused, however, if they note an Alice-in-Wonderland touch in the statement attributed to Assistant Commissioner Belcher in Vancouver last week-end. He is quoted as saying:

"There will be no disruption of the old force. That would be upsetting to the men concerned, and decidedly against the principles of the force."

It would appear to the layman that premature retirement of the Commissioner of B.C. Police, as well as other high officers, has caused a very considerable disruption already. Should the public close its eyes to that and pretend the mimeographed retirement forms were never distributed? Or is the new official indicating a revision of the arrangements announced last week—a change whereby these valuable senior officers of the provincial force would be brought back into police work in positions which give them scope to exercise the capabilities they have proved? Surely there cannot be a new meaning to the word "disruption" to cover the situation as it stands.

Humanitarian And Economic

A POSITIVE METHOD BY WHICH citizens can assist authorities to rehabilitate young people who have broken the law and been sentenced, but who have shown potentialities for re-establishment in decent society, was presented to the Lions Club last week by S. Rocksborough Smith, head of New Haven, the Borstal Home in Burnaby. Mr. Smith outlined the work of Borstal Associations, organizations of private citizens who extend a helping hand and understanding to those who have been released after Borstal training.

It requires little imagination to understand the position in which former inmates find themselves when they first come from the training centre. However excellent their records may have been during the preceding months, they must feel themselves under a cloud as the result of the incident or incidents which lodged them at New Haven. As far as society in general is concerned, they are on trial. Their acceptance is still conditioned by the necessity of proving that they are worthy of trust.

At such times, and under that stress, Borstal Association members can help to restore their confidence, help to give them that lift which is often required to help them over psychological hurdles on their way back to lives of usefulness. A little kindliness and understanding may keep the released person on the right path, may stop him or her from drifting back into crime. Such work is primarily of high humanitarian value, but it has also an important economic facet. Crime is expensive to the taxpayer. Every reduction in its ranks means a cash saving for the national till.

S. Koreans Winning Respect Of American Allies In Battle

From a London Observer Correspondent in Korea

THIS South Korean regiment about three battalions strong is so good in battle that American units in the neighborhood are vying with each other to have it attached to them. Led by a 26-year-old colonel, it has amply disproved earlier stories about the absence of South Korean fighting efficiency. Its story is important because it shows what South Korean troops have been up against since the invasion began on June 25 and what they have been doing.

FULL DIVISION

On the outbreak of the war the regiment was hit by a full Communist division on the lonely Ongjin peninsula. After 48 hours of stiff resistance in which it lost one-third of its complement —more than a thousand casualties—it was ordered to get out as best it could by whatever boats were available and take its remnants further south. Two thousand men got back, taking what weapons they could salvage. They regrouped in the centre of South Korea, only to be struck again by a regiment of the Communist 15th Division.

This time, however, they fought back with such spirit that they put the Communists to flight and captured most of their arms. Since that success the regiment has been thrown about from one sagging sector to another, to fill holes or bolster units which because of limited firepower or manpower have been unable to hold the line.

I arrived at their official headquarters in the company of two American ambulances which the division H.Q. was giving them.

INCREDULOUS

The regimental Medical Officer could not believe that these ambulances were really for his men. "Do you mean we can use these to carry our own wounded?" he asked incredulously. When told that not only were they for his regiment but that also his South Koreans would be treated at the American Field Hospital he nearly wept.

"We will hold this line," he said. Then he turned quickly into his "Field Hospital" — a shabby mud hut where patients lay on the ground without even blankets.

Civil War

By WALTER LIPPMANN
From Washington

A RESPONSIBLE German newspaper, The Rheinische Merkur, said recently that the Soviet policy is to promote civil war in Germany. With the country partitioned and with two German governments, civil war has always been an ominous possibility. But during the past year the signs have been accumulating that the Kremlin has gone a long way, even if it has not gone all the way, to a policy of promoting a German civil war.

THE MOST IMPORTANT of the signs is the Berlin Congress of East German politicians which is to meet on August 26. According to the Communist Prime Minister of East Germany, Herr Grotewohl, the specific task of the Congress is, in the paraphrase of The London Times correspondent in Frankfurt, "to find a new form in the struggle of the German people for their national homeland. Those powers must be resisted which disregard the rights of the German people. The occupation troops were no longer in West Germany to carry through the Potsdam agreement but were now a pure army of intervention sponsoring a cold war. The American imperialists have carried the hot war into Korea, the national struggle of the German people must take other and more concrete forms."

UNDOUBTEDLY Herr Grotewohl was speaking on instructions from Moscow, and what he says fits exactly the Soviet doctrine—1950 model—as it was first outlined by Mr. Gromyko at the beginning of July and as it is now being developed and pounded home by Mr. Malik at Lake Success. When we translate it into our own terms, what the Russians have been saying since they set off the Korea explosion is that civil war, not international war, is the instrument of Communist expansion.

There is good reason, I think, to take seriously this definition of Soviet policy. In the present circumstances the Soviet Union stands to gain much from the civil wars. On the mainland of eastern Asia—in China, in Korea, and in Indo-China — nothing prevents a sweeping Communist victory except British, French, and American military intervention.

ON THE OTHER HAND, an international war is a bad risk for the Soviet Union as it is for everyone else. It is certain that the Soviet Union could not win the war, in the sense of defeating the United States and its allies, and it is certain that, even if we could not defeat Russia, we would inflict deep and wide damage. Therefore there is reason to think that Mr. Malik is disclosing the real Soviet policy of the present time — which is to expand wherever local Communists can be helped to win a civil war that does not involve Russia in a war with America.

This hypothesis, if it is correct, supplies the answer to one of the glaring gaps in the accepted theory of the defence of the Atlantic nations. To re-arm western Europe will take from two to four years. While Europe is being rearmed, it is defended by the American guarantee which presumably deters the Soviet Union from seizing Europe before it is rearmed.

THE GAP IN THE THEORY is some plausible guess as to what the Soviet Union would be doing the next three or four years while Europe is being united, rearmed, and transformed into a military power. The usual explanation is that the Soviet Union would be working feverishly to accumulate a stockpile of atomic bombs. No doubt it will be working to do that. But much as I favor the measures to strengthen Europe, the theory of the long lull while the race of armaments goes on and on has always seemed to me not the way things happen in this world.

BUT NOW, WITH THE HELP of the Gromyko-Malik statement of Soviet policy and Herr Grotewohl's pronouncement, I think we can see that there is not going to be a lull while the race of armaments is being run. What is more likely to happen is that as we become more and more deeply engaged in the Far East, subversive and insurrectionary movements will develop against us and against the governments we sponsor and protect in western Germany and in Japan.

A full-scale offensive like that launched by the North Koreans could not be launched by the East Germans without involving the Soviet Army from the beginning. If the Gromyko-Malik definition of present Soviet policy means anything, this is unlikely. Stalin will probably continue to act, as he did in the World War, on the orthodox military principle that the commander who can wait the longest to commit his reserves is likely to win the battle. But short of open military aggression in organized formations there are, in Herr Grotewohl's ominous words, "other and more concrete forms" in which the struggle can be waged.

THE PRACTICAL conclusion to be drawn from all this is, I believe, that measures adequate to enable the Germans themselves to suppress insurrection and to police themselves against sabotage and subversion are of the first importance to the security of Europe and to the prevention of a great war.

These measures will not be easy to take, involving as they must, if the Germans are to support them, an agreement with the German nation as to its place in Europe and its mission in the world. This will be harder to do than it will be to rearm western Europe, and it will require a higher form of statesmanship than the armament program itself. But it is an understatement to say that it is at least as important.

MUSICALE

May I make known, through your paper, how fortunate we are to have the musicale, at the lunch hour—12 to 2 p.m., each Friday, at the Arts Centre, 823 Broughton St.

Free to members, and for a small charge to non-members—who may enjoy the best in music; the current art exhibit, and a warm and friendly welcome!

Our thanks to Mrs. George Wilson, who with her fine taste selects records for music-lovers. And to the local firm who kindly loans them.

We heard a later work of Beethoven, Sonata in A major, opus 109 on Friday last, also the Bach Suite No. 3 played by the Stuttgart Chamber Orchestra, and Moussorgsky's stimulating "Pictures at an Exhibition," played by Horowitz; which conjures visions on its theme!

These are some of the Long Playing records which are so well rendered on the specially made record-player recently built for the Centre.

There may be visitors on holiday in Victoria, and local residents too, who do not know what the small, but progressive Arts Centre is offering each week to a growing number. "Multum in Parvo!" Other listeners may be encouraged to endorse the above appreciation through your columns.

TAX SEASON

"Now is the winter of our discontent." The tax season is upon us and, having my Saanich tax notice before me, I thought I would prod it, to see if it really had teeth. It had—a double row! But Saanich is not alone, all cities and municipalities work under the same system. Whoever devised it, is probably in his proper niche but those who perpetuate it should be in jail.

The following examples will show how it works out:

Two neighbors have land of equal tax value, say $200.00 each. The first, a man of large income, builds a house of $2000.00 tax value. The second, a man of lesser means, a house of $4000.00 tax value. At the Saanich mill rate of 43.5 mills, the first will pay $95.70, the second $182.70. In Oak Bay, first $99.00, second $189.00.

One ratepayer pays twice as much as his neighbor for schools, fire and police protection, light and other municipal services! Because he wished a nicer home that ratepayer has to pay a cruel and unjust penalty.

The system is a vicious one—it may be legal, locally, but it seems to me, it would collapse in a high court of justice.

A Headache For Administrators

By RAWLE KNOX, from Delhi

SERIOUSLY DISRUPTING the enormous task of administering the new India is widespread, utter ignorance of the need for civic responsibility. Last month, after a check-up, Delhi discovered that its "population" was 400,000 less than had been previously estimated. For population figures had been based on ration card issues and the authorities suddenly noticed that these were increasing by 200,000 every six months. A strict investigation showed that 400,000 "ghost" and bogus ration cards had come into circulation in the city in the course of a single year. Their cancellation saved the rationing authorities 90,000 pounds of cereals a week.

SAD TALE

Last year nearly six million passengers were detected travelling on India's railways without tickets. In the Punjab alone a hundred shopkeepers a month are being convicted of food adulteration. Calcutta merchants have rocketed the price of spices by fifty per cent since the start of the Korean war. The sad tale continues variously and indefinitely.

Indian nationalists who have spent a lifetime resisting the British and are now trying to rule their own country equitably and efficiently put much of the blame for this amorality on the history of non-co-operation. For decades it has been patriotic not to pay income tax to a foreign government, not to pay fares on foreign-owned railways and not to obey import and export regulations dictated by foreign interests. The habit is hard to shake off, especially since to shake it off costs money. In addition the low wages paid to Indians in government service under the British made it desperately hard for them to resist bribes; and thus another habit has been formed.

Everyone in India knows that corruption in the police forces is not rare, and that this is no fresh phenomenon. Out in the country districts it is common practice for a police officer who wants a conviction to bribe witnesses to bolster up his case. This has long been an accepted custom since country crimes are usually easy to solve but hard to provide evidence for.

Undoubtedly corruption in high places (and not only the police force) helps to undermine public morale. Education, also, does not seem to play the corrective part it should. When I talked to Morarji Desai, Bombay State's upright and incredibly industrious Home Minister, he complained sorrowfully about civic moral standards in comparison with those in Europe.

"But it's so much harder for you here," I said. "If you put up a notice—Do Not Spit—only 10 per cent of the passers-by can read it."

"Yes," said Morarji Desai, "but it's that ten per cent who immediately spit. Education here seems to breed a contempt for authority. It's the uneducated who are on the whole humble, obedient and content."

HONEST ADMINISTRATION

Education by example will be the only successful policy, and here the State of Bombay is outstanding in India, in spite of its government's almost pathological concentration on preventing the public from enjoying itself. The administration is accepted by all as honest. Even Communists to whom I spoke admitted that virtue in the government, while flinging a score of charges at its head. Not all India's states are in such a happy position.

Community radio sets in the villages, relaying simple dialect talks on co-operation and mutual help are assisting to din the idea of civic virtue into country minds. In the towns plainly designed posters proclaim the old truths that courtesy pays and honesty is the best policy. But the Indian public, as Indians anxiously admit, still has a lot to learn. Even today the government is prosecuting grain hoarders in Bihar while men, women and children lie dying of starvation in villages only a few miles from the law courts.

NO WOMAN'S CRUST

T.D.F. in the Ottawa Citizen

"Can you imagine," asks the Calgary Herald, "a man with 50 cents in his pocket trying on seven new suits?" Not unless his wife was along, and in the mood to put up the dough. Very unlikely!

GLOBAL SURVEY

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

YOU are a United Nations soldier on a battle line in Korea, half a world away from home.

Why are you there? What are you fighting for?

Mackenzie

Those are questions you are bound to ask yourself — and probably the answers don't come quickly. If you were at home, defending your country from invasion, the answers would be easy.

But why Korea? That's a long, long way from your family hearth.

Is it an ideal you are defending? We fought the Second World War "to make the world safe for democracy." Is that what we are doing now?

You ought to know the answer to that, as you fight through the mud of the rice paddies or over the precipitous heights against a foe whose language and ways of life are wholly strange. What does he mean to you?

You are entitled to a good reason for your assignment. After all, war is concrete and it is cruel; ideals are intangible.

Well, idealism of course does enter into the sacrifice. The western allies again are fighting "to make the world safe for democracy"—to protect a small state against aggression which it couldn't deal with alone. Furthermore we are doing it under the banner of the United Nations.

AFTER KOREA, WHAT NEXT?

However, we must look deeper than that. There are many who feel that this wouldn't be sufficient cause to send our boys to such a war.

We find a far more substantial reason in the fact that the Korean war is part and parcel of the world conflict between communism and democracy. From that viewpoint we are defending our own doorsteps, and in a big way.

The Korean conflict is an important part of the rapidly swelling conquest of Asia by communism. There is a tendency in the west to overlook this fact, because the dangers and the trials of the European conflict have been so much closer.

But the Red offensive in Europe has lost its steam. Having overrun a vast amount of territory which was made vulnerable to it by the world war, it now has been halted by the firm stand of the western powers.

RED STRATEGY

So we see Moscow shifting the weight of its offensive to the Asiatic theatre. Korea is an important phase of the far eastern conflict which, in the long run, may be decisive in the ideological struggle.

Should communism overrun the Orient, its next main objective would be the western hemisphere. Thus, in the larger sense, when we send aid to Korea now we are in fact defending North America from an assault which is bound to come if communism gains further great strength.

Ups And Downs

By BRIAN A. TOBIN

"A LOT OF people," said the Elevator Man, "take a funny view of the law. They'll break one regulation with never a regret, and yet balk at another as though their lives depended on it. Take those two gunmen at Long Beach, Cal., the other day. They were robbing a liquor store of its cash. One of the bankits took a bottle off the shelf and started to have a drink. His pal stopped him. 'Don't do that,' he advised. 'This is an off-sale place. Drinking here's against the law.' You know these selective buttons they have on radios now, to punch in on the station you want to hear? Some people operate their conscience on the same system. Going up!

Tobin

"In England a while back," said the Elevator Man, "a fella ran into a different angle of the law. A girl was being annoyed in the street by a toughie, and called for help. This fella ran up and popped the guy on the chin. It put the thug in hospital for three weeks. The catch was, Sir Galahad had to pay three pounds court costs for assault. It looked like a raw deal even to the judge, but he said the law didn't give him any other choice. Next time you're being attacked in the street, look around and make sure there isn't a cop watching before you blow the man down. Mezzanine!

"There's so many laws these days," said the Elevator Man, "they've figured out that almost everybody ought to serve some time in jail during his lifetime. Lot's of 'em you've never even heard of, but you break 'em anyway. It seems to me a fella should get some praise for keeping so many of them. It ought to work both ways. But I guess we'd get swelled heads if they praised us for not breaking the law. You have to do that for yourself, and I don't think there's any law against it. But like the fella says, 'It probably wasn't an accident that when God made man, He didn't arrange any of the bones so he could pat himself on the back."

Praises Victoria's Climate

"Complain about Victoria's weather? Of course not. I think it's a wonderful climate," Dr. Vincent T. Derbes of New Orleans, La., said on his first visit to the city. Vacationing here with his wife and three-year-old daughter, Ann, Dr. Derbes said cool temperature here was pleasant change. "As for rain, we are used to it. It rains so much in New Orleans."

Railway, Union Leaders Broadcast Dispute Views

OTTAWA (CP) — While the Aug. 22 deadline moved closer, both management and labor representatives made broadcasts Tuesday night over the national network of the CBC in connection with the threatened wage-hour strike of non-operating employees.

Donald Gordon, president of the C.N.R., in an address to the people of Canada and to C.N.R. employees particularly, said a rail strike is "unthinkable" in the light of the facts.

A. R. Mosher, president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees (C.C.L.) said in his address that the railways had undermined efforts to bring about a peaceful settlement by "misleading propaganda." The C.B.R.E. is one of the unions preparing to walk out Aug. 22.

"I cannot but feel that if all of you were aware of the facts surrounding the present dispute you would say at once that strike action is not justified and that railway managements have tried honestly and fairly to deal with demands put forward by union leaders on your behalf," said Mr. Gordon, speaking from Montreal.

"Your voice in the right place is all that is required."

Reviewing the demands of the unions, the railway president said that full acceptance, if applied to all employees, would cost the railways $124,000,000 a year. To meet such additional costs, increases in freight rates up to 38 per cent would be necessary. Such a rise was not only out of the question, Mr. Gordon said, but if attempted would cause ruinous inflation in the cost of living.

"So I say to you, don't be fooled by higher wages under such conditions."

Mr. Mosher, also president of the Canadian Congress of Labor, reiterated his union's attitude that the railways' settlement offer, made last week, is not acceptable.

"That's not nearly definite enough," he said of the railway promise to grant the 40-hour week—one of the major union demands—at "the appropriate time."

Mr. Mosher charged the union's position in the dispute had been "grossly misrepresented through an amazing barrage of news releases and paid advertisements issued by the railways."

British Labor Group Tries To Foil Churchill

Would Stop Assembly On Army For Europe

STRASBOURG (AP)—Delegates representing Britain's ruling Labor Party battled today to block European Assembly action on Winston Churchill's proposal for a European Army.

Led by James Callaghan, Labor Member of Parliament, they enlisted Scandinavian support in the assembly sub-committee on security.

Callaghan threatened to walk out Tuesday night after it voted seven to six, with one abstention, to take action on the army proposal.

The sub-committee's stormy session was marked by bitter clashes. Callaghan and representatives of Norway, Sweden and Iceland contended the European Consultative Assembly has no right to act.

E. De la Valle Poussin, Belgian member of the sub-committee, angrily reminded Callaghan and the Scandinavians that the question already had been decided by the full 125-member assembly last Friday when it approved Churchill's motion by a vote of 89 to 5, with 27 abstentions.

The whole dispute went today to the Assembly's committee on general affairs, headed by former French Premier Georges Bidault.

The security sub-committee was on a formal proposal by Conservative Duncan Sandys, Churchill's son-in-law, to take immediate action on the proposal to create a European army and European defence ministry.

THE HOME GARDEN

Colchicum Well Worth Having When It Flowers

By JACK G. BEASTALL

The Colchicum, or Meadow Saffron, is a member of the lily family, and because of its large crocus-like flower it is often confused with the autumn crocus.

Actually it is a relative of the lilies, growng from a corm instead of a bulb. There are many varieties available, two of which have checkered markings on their petals, and one has huge cup-shaped flowers. Colchicum speciosus bears its pink to violet flowers in clusters, while the charming little C. alpinum has small flowers growing in pairs.

The C. alpinum is the only one suitable for the small rock garden. The others are very deceptive, for when one first sees the flowers it appears that the corms have been set too far apart. There are no leaves at flowering time, but one is astonished the following spring when the large sheaves of leaves unfold, and later somewhat annoyed at the mess of dying yellow foliage.

Despite the space required, and the litter in the midst of a tidy June garden, they are well worth having when the flowers open in September.

So intent is the Colchicum on flowering that it will send forth blooms whether planted or not, and this is the reason why we must attend to them in August. They will flower when lying on the kitchen window sill, although this uses up all their reserves, and they are useless for garden planting later.

Of the spring-blooming colchicums, C. montanum will flower both spring and fall, while C. leuteum is the only yellow member of the benus.

In the garden they like the usual well-dug soil that most bulbs enjoy, a soil which is well drained but retentive of moisture. When planting, the corms are set very shallow, an inch or so of covering being sufficient, in a sunny position.

LET'S STOP THIS RAILWAY STRIKE!

A strike on Canada's railways would be, at any time, a tragedy. Today, as we prepare to meet the threat of expanding military aggression, such a strike would mean national disaster.

The Boards of Conciliation, which reviewed in detail all the facts of the dispute, said in their report:

"It is our firm opinion that the recommendations herein contained embody the utmost in the way of concessions which the railways ought to grant at this time."

Yet, the railways offered the unions concerned in this dispute a settlement far more generous than the Boards' recommendations.

HERE IS WHAT WE HAVE DONE

Our offer, which we published in detail, included these benefits for our employees:

(1) A shorter work week for the great majority, with no loss of pay,
OR (if the unions prefer)
A substantial increase in "take home" pay.
These higher hourly rates would result in higher overtime rates.

(2) Acknowledgement by the railways of a moral obligation to put the 5-day 40-hour week into effect at the appropriate time. The Board of Conciliation said this: "The 40-hour week is not in Canada, as it is in the United States, the normal work week. On the contrary, the evidence before the Board indicates that the 40-hour week is very rare in Canadian industry."

(3) Separate consideration to be given the claims of hotel and water transport employees on merit.

WHEN APPLIED TO ALL EMPLOYEES, THESE BENEFITS WOULD COST THE RAILWAYS APPROXIMATELY $37,000,000 A YEAR

THE TIME IS NOW!

The welfare of every Canadian is involved in this critical dispute. The Board of Conciliation said: "In the consideration of increases of this magnitude in railway wage scales there is, besides the employers and the employees who conduct the negotiations, a third party, unheard at the council tables, whose rights must be weighed — the ordinary Canadian citizen." Let's stop this railway strike NOW! The time to do this is not at the eleventh hour, or after a strike begins. The time is NOW!

Victoria Policemen Make Good Showing As Marksmen

The four-man Victoria City Police Revolver Club team invaded Seattle last week-end and came back to the city yesterday bearing 22 prizes to testify as to pistol marksmanship. They participated in the Seattle police annual tournament.

Featured marksmen were Detective-Inspector Charles Webb, chief of detectives, and Constable Jack Mason. Constables Nap Bouchard and Robert Mair were other Victoria team members. They collected the .22-calibre team event first prize.

Constable Mason was in excellent form. A sharpshooter, he ran up a total score that gave him second prize in the grand aggregate race.

The detective chief, shooting in the expert class, won two first prizes in .22-calibre matches, took a second prize in another competition, and wound up in second place in the aggregate for this calibre of pistol. He won first place in the aggregate in the .38-calibre competitions, winning one first prize and two second prizes in events.

Sharpshooter Mason won second aggregate prize in the .22-calibre section, winning first prize in two events. In the .38-calibre events in his class, he won two first prizes and one second . . . his over-all marskmanship running his point score up to the next position from the aggregate champion.

Constable Bouchard took second prizes in two .37-calibre events, Constable Mair winning one second prize in a .22-calibre competition. These two are in the marksman class.

Blood Transfusion Talk To Kiwanis

A 20-minute talk on the British Columbia Red Cross Transfusion Service by S. M. Webb, chairman of the service, along with a film entitled "Miracle Fluid," gave Victoria Kiwanis members a good idea of the wonderful work being carried on by the Red Cross.

Mr. Webb noted that B.C. was the first province to carry out a transfusion service in Canada. He said that this year it is hoped that 5,000 pints of blood can be collected. The service relies entirely on public support.

Architect Seeks Heavier Damages

Hubert Savage, Victoria architect, has given notice in Supreme Court Registry of his intention of appealing a judgment of Mr. Justice H. S. Wood with regard to his breach of contract suit against Alberni School Board No. 70.

Awarded $7,560 by the Supreme Court judge, Mr. Savage is appealing for an additional $8,730 from the school board for alleged professional injury and wrongful termination of contract.

Driver Fined $40

Involved in a collision in which a car was turned over and the four occupants injured, Ernest W. Whitehouse, 1539 Oakley Avenue, was fined $40 by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today.

Field Narrows In Seniors' Golf

When play is completed in the quarter-final round of the 28th annual Seniors' Northwest Golf Tournament at Victoria Golf Club today only one of this quartet will remain in contention for the grand championship. Dick Bell-Irving, left, of Vancouver, was eliminated by a fellow townsman, K. C. Allen, 3 and 2, in Tuesday's first round of match play. A. E. Jukes of Vancouver, second from left, failed to qualify for the championship flight, while Dr. O. Willing of Portland and Ed Eisenhower of Tacoma, right, are meeting in a quarter-final round today. Finals are billed for Friday.

Marshall Mauled At Cap Stadium

It's a grand and glorious day in Vancouver today.

Grand for the little groups of baseball fans who gathered at work today to talk over last night's game, as the Caps whipped our A's, 15 to 5.

The Caps teed off on the offerings of big John Marshall in the third frame, and before it was over, 18 men had paraded to the dish.

Nine men walked, five hit safely and one reached first on Al Ronning's miscue. When the side was finally retired, an even dozen runs had crossed the plate, nullifying the A's three-run lead in the top of the third.

CLARKSON HOMERS

A Victorian started the ball rolling. With two men on base in the third, Reg Clarkson lifted one of Marshall's fast ones over the rightfield fence and the Caps were off.

Big John managed to get two men out, but couldn't end it, and went out under fire after the Brownies scored 11 times. Warren Noyes was the next victim, but he soon followed in Marshall's footsteps to the showers. John Brkich went the rest of the route.

Strangely enough, the A's out-hit the Caps, 15 to 13, but were at the mercy of Bob Snyder, who scattered the blows efficiently to chalk up his 14th win.

A doubleheader is billed at Cap Stadium tonight before the clubs move here Thursday.

In other W.I.L. tilts last night, the leading Tacoma Tigers extended their margin with 8 to 1 and 7 to 4 victories over Salem. Wenatchee Chiefs trounced Spokane, 5 to 1, and Yakima scored an easy 6 to 2 win over Tri-City Braves.

In the opening Tacoma-Salem fixture, Bob Kerrigan became the first hurler to rack up 20 victories this year. He only allowed three hits.

International Drama Vogue In Net Tourney

Lorne Main Erratic But Wins; Henri Rochon Advances As Canadian Meet In Second Day

QUEBEC (CP)—A wealth of promising international drama was packed today into the Canadian tennis championships.

In the men's singles, seven of eight third-round matches offered international competition—Canada vs. France and Canada vs. the United States.

Canada's No. 1 player, Henri Rochon of Montreal, was drawn against Alain Lemyse of France in a battle of southpaws.

Rochon played both first and second-round matches yesterday and won without the slightest trouble over J. Y. Laurin and Jacques Giguere, both of Quebec. Lemyse was pressed in his second set with Don Platt of Toronto.

With Rochon, Canada's other three Davis Cup team players found themselves against foreign opponents. The draw saw Brendan Macken of Montreal against Roland Haillet of France; George Robinson of Montreal against Jean Ducos De La Haille of France, and little Lorne Main of Vancouver against Bill Tully of Bronxville, N.Y., 1948 Canadian singles champion.

Macken allowed Marc Blondeau of Quebec only two games in their match yesterday and is favored over Haillet who dropped six to young Hamilton Quain of Ottawa.

Robinson easily defeated Edgar Lanthier of Montreal and De La Haille coasted to a victory over Andre De Chavigny of Quebec.

Main, like Rochon, also played two single rounds yesterday and after some erratic early play steadied to win from Jean Richer of Montreal and later from Paul Willey of Vancouver, with the loss of two games in each set.

Robert Abdesselam, France's No. 2 player, also did double duty. He won as he pleased from Laurent Dutil of Quebec in the first match against Morton Stern of Philadelphia. He eased up in the second set and had to snap back into form before taking the match 6-0, 7-5.

FIREMEN COP OPENER IN B.C. SERIES

TRAIL (CP)—Dick Pickering exhibited four-hit ball last night as Vancouver Firemen trounced Trail Crown Points, 5 to 1, in the first game of the best-of-three series for the British Columbia senior men's softball championship.

Second game of the series is scheduled for tonight, with Pete Proctor on the mound for Firemen. Proctor lashed out a home run in the seventh inning last night.

Johnny Fulthorpe, a 36-year-old veteran, did the pitching for Trail, giving up nine hits.

Firemen won the lower mainland softball crown and the right to meet Trail last week-end by pasting Victoria Douglas Tire 2 to 0 and 4 to 2.

Oaks Protect Lead With Six-Run Rally

Powerful Oakland cemented its edge in the Pacific Coast League pennant race last night, staging a six-run uprising to defeat San Francisco Seals 8 to 7.

Oaks' big fifth inning brought them abreast with the rampaging Seals. Oakland then cinched the game with single runs in the sixth and eighth innings.

Al Jurisich mastered his fifth victory of the year in pitching San Diego Padres to their eighth straight win, this time over Portland, 6 to 4.

Hollywood Stars, led by Buddy Hicks and former Yankee Johnny Lindell, clubbed Los Angeles for an 8 to 4 win. Hicks and Lindell drove in three runs apiece to cement the win.

Rain forced postponement of the game between Sacramento and Seattle. They'll play a doubleheader Thursday night.

Short scores follow:

	R.	H.	E.
Oakland	8	11	2
San Francisco	7	7	1

Behrman, Thompson (7), Nelson (8) and Malone; Johnson, Buxton (5), Gettel (7), Lien (8), Nagy (9) and Ortelg.

FOOTBALL MEETING

There will be a meeting of the Victoria and District Wednesday Football Association at the Elks Home at 8 tonight. Any team interested in entering the league is asked to have a representative in attendance.

GAVILAN FAVORED OVER JOHNNY GRECO TONIGHT

MONTREAL (BUP)—Kid Gavilan of Cuba likely will be a 7 to 5 choice when he tangles with Canadian welterweight champion Johnny Greco at the Montreal Baseball Stadium tonight.

The agile, ebony-skinned Cuban was expected to fight a long-range battle against the 27-year-old Canadian who likes to crowd his opponents and fire his heavy ammunition.

According to Gavilan's board of strategy, he will keep Greco at a distance with left hooks, jabs and bolo punches. Greco was pronounced in great shape by Willie Ketchum, his chief trainer, while the Cuban demonstrated his usual speedy style in local gym workouts.

Titlists May Meet In Seniors' Golf

Possibility of two former champions meeting in the semi-final round in the 28th annual Seniors' Northwest Golf Association tournament at Victoria Golf Club loomed as play entered the quarterfinal round today.

Ralph Whaley, defending champion, was matched against Roy Campbell in one of today's brackets with Gerry McManama meeting Victoria's Arthur Musgrave in the other half of the draw.

If Whaley can get by Campbell and McManama can oust the city's lone hope, Musgrave, it will bring two former titlists together. Whaley is a five-time winner while McManama captured the crown in 1948. Both are from Seattle.

McManama was about the hottest golfer on the course Tuesday as he trimmed H. O. English of Victoria, 4 and 3. He was three under par for the first six holes and finished with an approximate medal round of one over par.

Whaley had little trouble in defeating R. C. Milroy, 6 and 4.

In today's other quarterfinal matches Ed Eisenhower of Tacoma meets Dr. O. Willing of Tacoma and Roy Wood of Portland meets K. C. Allen of Vancouver.

Finals are scheduled for Friday.

Propose Silver Gloves At Nanaimo In Nov.

Tentative arrangements call for the Vancouver Island Silver Gloves boxing tourney to be held at the Nanaimo arena sometime in November, it was learned today.

This tournament and a proposed constitution at present being drawn up are expected to be the main points coming up for discussion at the annual meeting of the Vancouver Island Amateur Boxing Association at the Plaza Hotel, Nanaimo, on Sept. 3.

On the local front it is hoped to stage several boxing cards at the Armories this season. First of such proposed events is a grand novices' competition for boys who have never appeared at one of the larger open tournaments. School and playground meets are not included in this category.

In this way boxing officials hope to inject some new blood into the sport.

MAINLAND BOYS COMING

These proposed tourneys will be highlighted by one or two main events with ranking boxers in the feature roles. Eagletime Athletic Club of Vancouver has promised its co-operation in this matter and has already agreed to send over some of its best boys for the season's opening card in late September or early October.

Preceding the annual meeting will be a meeting of the Island Association at Prince Robert House tonight at 8.

Charles Dullish In Title Defence

Louis' Stock Climbs As Champ Scores K.O.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Joe Louis' stock rose sharply today following Ezzard Charles' one-sided but lacklustre conquest of Freddie Beshore.

A "new" Charles was supposed to be unveiled in Memorial Auditorium last night but it was the same old cautious Ezzy in action. The N.B.A. heavyweight champion, who made good in his third title defence by stopping Beshore in 2.53 of the 14th round, certainly wasn't a "tiger."

But Charles and his managerial brain trust of Jake Mintz and Tom Tannas, expressed satisfaction with the lean Cincinnati Negro's performance.

"He needed the workout," said Mintz as Charles nodded agreement. "It was his first fight in 10 months and he wasn't as sharp as he should be. His timing was off. But he'll be ready for the next one, whoever it is."

"Whoever it is" refers to one Joe Louis who once ruled all of the heavyweights until he went into temporary retirement. Ezzy is recognized only in 47 states of the U.S. New York doesn't list a champion at the moment.

The comebacking Brown Bomber and Charles, are tentatively scheduled to meet in Yankee Stadium Sept. 27.

Louis already has stared preliminary training in West Baden, Ind. Charles, who suffered a slight cut over his right eye last night, said he will be ready to resume work again in a couple of weeks.

When discussions first got under way about a Louis-Charles scrap, the experts' consensus was that Charles would be a big favorite to outstab and outrun the aging, one-time destroyer. After last night, the Bomber's stock soared.

The 29-year-old Charles never was able to floor the 26-year-old Beshore who outweighed Charles 184½ to 183¼.

Referee Barney Felix halted the fray when blood streamed from a nasty cut on Beshore's right ear and while the aggressive, game challenger was taking a good shellacking. Besides the ear cut, Freddie gushed blood from a cut under his right eye and from the nose and mouth.

Felix had the champ ahead, 12 to 2. Judge Anse Carroll scored it 12-1-1, and Judge Leo Stachowiak made it unanimous for the champ, 9-3-2. The AP scorecard had it 10-2-2.

LaMotta May Be Relieved Of N.B.A. Title

WASHINGTON (UP)—If Jake LaMotta doesn't defend his world middleweight championship against Sugar Ray Robinson by Oct. 12, the title may be taken away from him by the National Boxing Association.

The N.B.A. said today it will ask its annual convention at Detroit, Sept. 11, to impose that time limit and penalty on Bronx Jake.

LaMotta was ordered by the executive committee of the N.B.A. in June that his next defence must be against Robinson. But instead, he signed last week to defend against Laurent Dauthuille of Belgium at Detroit, Sept. 13. There appeared little chance that he could defend against both men within a month.

President Fred J. Saddy of the N.B.A., said, "The convention will be called upon to sustain the action of the N.B.A.'s executive committee in voting 21 to 1 that LaMotta be required to abide by his agreement not later than Oct. 12 against Robinson."

Of course, there was always the possibility that Dauthuille would strip LaMotta of the crown on Sept. 13.

City Players In Island Tourney

Jack Milledge, Carl Brand and Peter Peacock are among the Victoria tennis players entered in the 62nd annual Vancouver Island lawn tennis championships which opened at the South Cowichan Lawn Tennis Club today.

Duncan and Cowichan also have strong representation in the tourney with such outstanding players as Dave Williams, Al Stevenson, Bradshaw Harrison, Ron Sidaway and Eric Leney.

Running concurrently with the island championships will be the Pacific Northwest sectional tourney.

Double Main Event On Wrestling Card

Wrestling promotor Rocky Brooks has announced the second half of his double main event for the Memorial Arena Friday night.

Yankee Kid and Salvadore Florez have been signed for the bout. Ivan Gorky will meet Eddie Williams in the other half of the double main. Brooks is looking for an opponent for Yaqui Joe who is also billed to show on the card.

Ex-Scottish Junior Attends United Drill

Among the players who took part in the Victoria United training session at Heywood Avenue last night was Jock Dunbar, a Scotsman who is now working in Victoria.

Dunbar has been at Flin Flon, where there is no football, for the past two years, and is keen to get back into practice. A native of Aberdeen, he played for the well-known North of Scotland junior club, Mugiemoss, before coming out to Canada a couple of years ago.

Dunbar, who is well built, plays as a wing half back.

A number of other newcomers were in training as well as John Pickburn, Denny McGee and Ab Travis of last year's team. Pickburn has made an excellent recovery from his cartilege operation.

TO PLAY NANAIMO

VANCOUVER (CP) — Russell Adanacs last night moved into the Pacific Coast Lacrosse League semifinal when they beat Indians, 8 to 5. Adanacs meet Nanaimo Native Sons Saturday at Nanaimo in the first semifinal game, with the second scheduled for Sunday at Brighouse.

FROM THE FANSTAND

By PETE SALLAWAY, Times Sports Editor

He may still be called "The Lip" but there is every evidence that Leo Durocher has mellowed considerably with age. Just imagine the Durocher of old restraining himself during a wild fracas such as broke out last Saturday during the game between Leo's New York Giants and the league-leading Philadelphia Phillies. Forty players took part in the rhubarb that required police action before it was broken up and Mr. Durocher was one of those still around after matters had settled down. That's hard to believe, but the only serious action on the part of Leo was to notify the umpires he was continuing the game under protest.

Sallaway

No longer is Durocher baseball's bad boy, constantly teetering on the brink of the brig.

He Was Completely In Clear

Even more amazing was the announcement Monday that Durocher's only reprimand from National League president Ford Frick, following his hearing of the protest, centred around Leo's fiery little second baseman, Eddie Stanky. Leo was ordered to keep Stanky under better control. How times have changed. There are still his tormentors in baseball who insist that Durocher's excellent behaviour is necessary—that he is walking the chalk line drawn by Commissioner Happy Chandler and that one slip means goodbye baseball for Leo. Others claim that Durocher's family man status has had a changing effect on him. Regardless of the reason, it is quite a change from the day when Leo was the Brooklyn boogie man.

Pennock's Great Job Forgotten

Should the Philadelphia Phillies win the National League pennant, climaxing a season of sensational play, I'll wager few people will ever think to give credit to one of baseball's immortals who is no longer around. Mention will be made of the fine work of manager Eddie Sawyer and the foresight of youthful owner Bob Carpenter in pouring out $3,000,000 into farm clubs, scouting, major-league deals and bonus players, but I wonder how many will remember the great job done by the late Herb Pennock in building up the Phils' chain of farm clubs.

When Pennock joined the Philadelphia organization their farm system was one of the weakest in the majors. Before his death he had built it up into just about the best in baseball and had done a complete overhaul on the club's operations in the ranks of the minors. It is unfortunate that he failed to live to see the fruits of his work.

Tremendous rebuilding job done on the Phils is best seen by the fact that from 1918 through 1945 they finished last 16 times, seventh seven times, sixth three times, fifth once. They made the first division once: fourth place in 1932. Naturally they played to throngs of empty seats. To reduce operating deficits, they rapidly sold any players that had been provided by extraordinary accident.

Traveling Pool Must For United

Whether or not Victoria United remains in the Pacific Coast Football League hinges on the local proposal to introduce a traveling pool for next season's operations. Last season the St. Andrews club of Vancouver had a net income of around $2,500 while the New Westminster team's take was slightly over $1,000. The Victoria club's total net income was $291 for its matches played here and on the mainland. That works out to less than $20 a match. No better proof is required that a new deal must be worked out in order for the local eleven to operate and keep out of the red. The Victoria club had much better gates than New Westminster but just couldn't keep up with the terrific outlay for traveling expenses.

Cleveland Rues Day Groth Was Spurned

A difference of $5,000 once kept Johnny Groth from wearing a Cleveland uniform. Today the Indians would pay that sum many times over to get him out of their hair.

Since joining the Detroit Tigers two years ago Groth has made a career out of belting Cleveland pitching. If the Tigers beat the Indians to the wire it can be traced directly to Groth's batting feats against the club that once spurned him.

It wasn't Groth's fault that the Tigers could get no better than an even break in their two games with the tribe.

He slammed a home run in each game. Unfortunately, only one came with the bases loaded. That was Tuesday's. The Tigers didn't need any more to defeat Bob Lemon and the Indians, 4 to 1.

Groth's homer Monday night came with one on. Since it happened in the ninth inning to overcome a 1 to 0 deficit, that blow appeared sufficient. The Tribe, however, came back with single runs in the bottom halves of the ninth and 10th to win.

Groth went to Cleveland for a tryout after the war and was offered a contract. As he was about to sign, Groth's father reminded the boy he had previously promised the Detroit club a chance to match any offer. The Tigers offered $30,000. Cleveland would go no higher than $25,000.

Detroit's victory opened up a three and a half game spread between the league leading Tigers and their pursuers. The New York Yankees split a doubleheader with Washington to move two percentage points in front of Cleveland in their race for second place. Washington won the opener, 10 to 5. The Yankees took the second, 9 to 0.

RED SOX GAIN

Boston's Red Sox moved within seven games of the top, taking two from the Philadelphia Athletics, 8 to 3 and 9 to 4.

Philadelphia increased its National League lead over Boston to six games, defeating the Braves, 9 to 1. Brooklyn climbed to within three percentage points of Boston with a 1 to 0 triumph over the New York Giants. Chicago's Cubs tallied twice in the eighth inning to dump the St. Louis Cards, 3 to 2. Pittsburgh rallied for six runs in the ninth to match Cincinnati's total in the top of the inning and outscored the Reds, 10 to 9. Ralph Kiner clubbed his 33rd homer for the Bucs.

KONSTANTY AGAIN

Curt Simmons won his 15th game for Philadelphia, with the help of Jim Konstanty in the eighth. It was the 53rd relief appearance for the Phillies' fireman. Johnny Sain was the loser.

The Red Sox double victory was dimmed by an accident to Walt Dropo, their sensational rookie first baseman. Dropo suffered a cerebral concussion when "beaned" by Hank Wyse in the first game. X-rays showed no fracture. He is expected back in the line-up within a few days.

Aug. 28 Set As Final Date For Soccer Entries

August 28 has been set as the final date for entries in the 1950-51 Victoria and District Football Association, it was announced at the annual meeting last night in the British Public Schools Club.

In addition to applications, all entry fees must be included if teams wish to participate in this year's setup, secretary Don Gray said.

One team—the popular Duncan Native Sons— has already filed its application and entry fee, Gray announced.

EXECUTIVE RETURNED

The complete executive was re-elected as a body. Charlie Lewis will again take over as president, Percy Payne as vice-president and Gray as secretary-treasurer.

Team delegates decided to set a price of 35 cents a head for single contests this year and 50 cents for doubleheaders. The delegates also urged the executive to arrange a definite series of dates at Athletic Park, preferably alternating with Victoria United on successive Saturdays.

Reading the financial report, Gray pointed out $160 had been turned over to the Queen Alexandra Solarium from Solarium games last year.

Next meeting of the association will be held Aug. 28.

Rocks To Face Arkays; Buchanan Sets New Mark

It's win tonight at all costs for Victoria Shamrocks.

Currently holding down third place in the Intercity Box Lacrosse League, the greenshirts can pull out of reach of the hard-pressing Burrard Westerns by downing the cellar-dwelling Richmond-Kerrisdale outfit in the final home game of the loop schedule at the Memorial Arena tonight.

Last year's Mann Cup winners pulled to within two points of the Rocks last night by thumping the Arkays, 23 to 11.

But that is not the only factor which makes a win a necessity.

It was at the last meeting of the Shamrocks and Arkays that the latter completely humiliated the local proteges with a stiff 9 to 1 decision, and now the Rocks have their final chance to redeem that great wrong. Game time is 8.30.

NEW RECORD

Little Harry Buchanan, the loop's top playmaker, was the chief figure in the Burrards' victory last night. Harry set a new league individual scoring mark by rapping home five tallies and setting up six others.

The old record was held jointly by Indians' Bo Bradford and Salmonbellies' Alf Wood.

The top-riding Indians will be out to increase their single-point edge over the Adanacs tonight when they tangle with the New Westminster Salmonbellies. The latter were completely eliminated from playoff competition last night due to Burrards' victory.

The Shamrocks wind up their schedule Thursday night in New Westminster when they tackle the second-place Adanacs.

GUSSIE MORAN TO PLAY HERE

Remember Bobby Riggs' tennis troupe which played here last winter? Well, it's coming again with bigger and better things.

Although complete details of this year's troupe were not included in Riggs' telegram to local officials, it is evident "gorgeous" Gussie Moran will make the trip. The only member of the troupe fully identified as coming was Jack Kramer. Riggs prefers to come here between Dec. 26 and Jan. 10, or preferably Dec. 29 if the date is open.

Face Stiff Task In Test Cricket

LONDON (Reuter) — England was forced to follow on today on the fourth day of the fourth and last cricket Test match with the West Indies.

With tomorrow the last day, England's chances of victory and squaring the series—West Indies lead two matches to one—were fading.

England was all out shortly before lunch today for 344—159 behind the tourists total of 503. Len Hutton, star opening bat, was undefeated when the first innings closed with a brilliant 202.

In the second innings England had scored one run for none by the lunch break.

SALT LAKE CITY — Rex Layne, 183, Lewiston, Utah, outpointed Turkey Thompson, 211, Los Angeles, 10.

SANCTION SHOW of the Vancouver Island Dog Fanciers' Association at the Club Sirocco tonight will see George Donaldson officiate as one of the judges. The all-breed event will start at 7.30.

Davison Resigns Football Post

VANCOUVER, B.C. (BUP)—The Dominion Football Association looked around today for a man to manage the Canadian tours of major soccer teams.

Sam Davidson of Winnipeg quit the post yesterday. He said he wanted "to let somebody else see if they can do a better job."

"I'm tired," he added.

Davidson told a D.F.A. meeting that a 12-game tour of old country teams this summer grossed $121,838 with the D.F.A. getting $46,470.

B.C. Rifle Team Second In Steinhardt Shoot

CONNAUGHT RIFLE RANGES, South March, Ont. (CP)—Two marksmen Tuesday posted scores of 98 out of a possible 100 to tie in the Bankers' match at the second day of the 82nd Dominion of Canada Rifle Association shoot.

WO. 2 Tom Gregory, R.C.A.F., Ottawa, and Cpl. F. Jermey, R.C.E.M.E., Montreal, fought a stiff breeze and overcast skies to post 98s in the match, shot from 300 and 600 yards.

Two other men—N. G. Lewis of Calgary and Cadet N. H. Hollingshead of Hamilton, Ont., posted scores of 97, three off the possible.

The match is open to all members of the Association and with it goes a cup presented by the late Hon. J. C. Patterson, formerly Minister of Militia, and also a challenge cup presented by the late Maj.-Gen Lord Aylmer and the late Anson A. Gard, for team competition.

The statistical office disclosed that two teams have tied for team honors in the tyro match, which was shot off for the Steinhardt Trophy, open to all marksmen under the age of 19.

Tied with scores of 279 are a six-man team from Ontario and a six-man team from the New Brunswick Rifle Association. They shot off for top honors but the tie could not be broken.

Two other teams, the Provincial Rifle Association "A" team from Saskatchewan and a British Columbia team were second with a tied score of 277.

CHAPTER SEVEN

I was Humbert's No. 1 suspect, and I probably rated the same way with Pat Phajol. It was little short of miraculous that she didn't come up with a yelp that her father's diamonds had been stolen by the murderer.

She credited me with guessing the truth from the ransacked bag, and I credited the chief of police with the same good sense. He wasn't fooled a bit. He knew those stones weren't in the safe.

As we stepped out into the corridor, Dominico came up to Pat and said:

"I am very sorry. I had promised Teresa I was going to buy you father's diamonds. I keep my promises. I told Pete Gremcheck to come down here, yes, but that was because I wanted your father to give me good prices."

I asked: "You told Gremcheck you were going to look at Phajol's diamonds and maybe buy 20,000 carats?"

GOOD BUSINESS

"Yes. It was good business."

"Did you tell him Phajol was going to bring his whole stock?"

"Yes. I couldn't buy on sample from Phajol." He had the decency to turn to Pat and say: "A man like Gremcheck represents an old-line house. From him I buy on lot because I know his firm sends me diamonds according to lot. When I buy 20,000 carats all at once from an independent, I want to see all the stones."

"Why the unusually large order, Mr. Dominico?"

He turned to me as if it was none of my business, and said:

"I put on six new crews for a California dam job. The new crews are green. They ruin lots of drills. I need 10 carats in each drill. Besides, I got lots of tired stones."

That was a new one on me. "What do you mean, tired stones?"

He shrugged. "Stones still good but cut no footage. You take out stones, polish them with nitric acid and put them in vault in bank. After year, you have diamond-setter put them back in drill, and they cut fine because they no more tired. Don't ask me why—I been in business 40 years, and I know stones like that."

COMEDY ANGLE

There wasn't anything the old boy didn't know about diamond drilling. Too bad he didn't know as much about matrimony. The idea of him marrying Teresa Jordon was strictly for the comic books.

The couple left. Foster went back to his desk. The solitary bellhop sat half-asleep in a lobby chair. I knew Humbert had not overlooked him. The chief left me with a warning look and instructions not to try to leave town. I went upstairs with Pat Phajol, and we went into her room. The moment I closed the door she whirled on me.

"Why didn't you let me tell about the diamonds? A hundred thousand dollars worth! How do you expect the police to solve my father's murder if they don't know the motive?"

"I don't expect the police to solve it. Humbert's a good man, but the lad who pulled this job is too good."

"Maybe you killed him!"

"I left your father alone under protest."

"But you stayed down in the lobby a long time. That clerk said so."

"I was only trying to pick up information that would help your father. I'm trying to help you now. I know that recovering the diamonds is a minor thing to you compared to finding out who murdered your father. If we keep silent about the diamonds, the killer may think we both believe them to be safe in the hotel strongbox. He may be thrown off guard."

She studied me. "Who do you think did it?"

"Maybe Gremcheck. With his contacts he would have no trouble in disposing of the diamonds."

RELIEF IN TEARS

She shuddered. For the first time the tears came. I left her to cry it out alone.

When I descended the stairway to the lobby a man was registering. His back was turned to me, but I recognized him at once.

"Hello, Lou," I said. "I didn't expect to see you in Copper City."

Lou Bryer turned and smiled. We shook hands. He took a key from the clerk. "I just got in. The clerk just told me the news."

I regarded the clerk, who looked as if he had done something he shouldn't have. To Bryer I said: "Where's your luggage, Lou?"

"I brought only a briefcase with a shirt and shaving tools. I'm down here for only a day, I hope."

"Well, I'll bring you up to date. I know you'll be interested in how Phajol was killed."

Bryer lifted his brows. "Do you know?"

"Not exactly." I went no farther. Bryer was interested. We went into the bar, and we both ordered beers.

HOLLYWOOD REVIEW

Mrs. Spike Jones To Stick To 'Goofy Guy'

By VIRGINIA MacPHERSON

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Spike Jones' wife said today she may go crazy hitched to the country's No. 1 noisemaker, but she'll never get a divorce.

She's got a formula, Helen Grayco has, and she's willing to pass it along to Hollywood's divorcing dolls.

"I settle for second-billing," the beautiful redhead said. "I'll sing my songs in the act, but I'll let Spike have the spotlight."

And she can think of a dozen or two other famous couples who might still be married if they'd taken her tip.

Mrs. Jones isn't just talking a good thing. She practices what she preaches.

Many a Hollywood producer is just itching to get the shapely cutie in front of his cameras. She not only looks good—she sounds better.

Light opera impressarios have tried for years to sign her up. So have nightclub bosses.

NO LONE WOLF

But Helen's settling for no solo deals.

"I just happen to love that wonderful, goofy guy," she said. "I want to be with him every minute. And how could I do that if I signed a movie contract?

"He'd be out on the road with the show and I'd be stuck here making love to some actor. No thank you."

Don't get Helen wrong. She wouldn't mind being as famous as Lana or Rita or Shelly. But the idea of being the ex-Mrs. Spike Jones gives her the wimwams.

"And it'd happen," she said. "Sure as anything. A husband wants to be first with his wife. If he has to compete with her career it hurts his ego.

"And that's the first step to the divorce court."

$10,000 Over Normal Price

Due to good locations and views offered, some homes throughout Greater Victoria have been selling for as much as $10,000 over their actual selling price.

This was revealed by Councillor Frank S. Green at the Saanich Council Monday night.

He told about one home with a normal selling price of $12,000 which was bought for $23,000. Councillor Green said he knew of other similar sales.

Victoria To Spend $10,000 On Bridge

Repairs totalling $10,000 will be made to the concrete piers and protection work on Johnson Street Bridge, City Council agreed Tuesday, on recommendation of the public works committee.

Cyril Jones, city engineer, had advised Ald. J. D. Hunter, chairman and his committee that protection work had been damaged and repairs should be made without delay.

"Survey of the protection work is being carried out and is almost complete," Mr. Jones reported. "Indications are that to carry out a complete repair of this protection work would cost $8700."

He said repairs were due partially to general wear and deterioration of the piling and particularly to damage caused by vessels passing under the bridge. Responsibility of the owners of vessels causing the damage is being referred to the city solicitor, he said.

Cost of concrete repair work to the piers is estimated at $1,200.

'Hams' Planning Mock Exercise For Emergency

Victoria radio amateurs will hold a simulated emergency exercise Sept. 10, with mobile transmitters, portable and home stations, and emergency power plants slated to be used.

At a meeting this week of the Victoria Amateur Radio Relay League, plans were outlined for the exercise, designed to show how communications can be maintained by radio amateurs when other means have failed.

Charles C. Henley, local Red Cross disaster services chief, told of the work done by that organization.

Air Force Band To Play At P.N.E.

The famous Royal Canadian Air Force Band of Northwest Air Command, under the direction of Warrant Officer Carl Friberg, will be a guest band at Canada's Pacific National Exhibition at Vancouver Aug. 23 to 26.

The band will take part in the P.N.E. opening parade and participate in the exhibition's entertainment program through the kind permission of Air Vice-Marshal C. R. Dunlap, C.B.E., air officer commanding Northwest Air Command. It is a repeat performance for the band who last year appeared as a featured attraction of the west coast fair.

Square Dance Expert To Call Here Thursday

Thad Byrne, internationally-known square dance caller, will bring his troupe to perform at Central Park Thursday for the "dancing on the green" show.

If the weather is unfavorable, the program will be held in the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium.

The dancing will start at 8.30 in the evening and a short lesson in the art of square dancing will be given to beginners.

Carnival Saturday At Banfield Park

Arrangements have been completed by committees of Victoria West Community Centre to hold a party and carnival at Banfield Park, Craigflower Road and Raynor Avenue Saturday afternoon at 2.

There will be home cooking and candy stalls, afternoon tea, vegetable and flower show, launch rides to the Gorge, pony rides for children and a midway.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Tournament bridge is especially devised to eliminate the luck of the deal. Everybody plays the same cards, and therefore nobody can complain that he lost because somebody else held better cards.

However, there is always the luck of the human factor. You can play against an opponent who puts up a poor defence whereas some other competitor plays against an opponent who puts up an inspired defense. (These factors tend to even out so that a tournament is really a very fine contest of skill.)

Even when your opponents in a tournament happen to put up the best possible defense, it is still often possible to counter them with equally skillful play and thus restore the balance. The hand shown today is a case in point.

MADE THINGS EASY

The contract was five diamonds at several tables and in most cases West led the five of hearts. This made things pretty easy for declarer. He played a low heart from dummy at the first trick, and East took the ace. This gave South a chance to discard his queen of spades on dummy's king of hearts.

At one table West opened the six of diamonds. This was not such a favorable opening lead, and declarer had to play the hand for all it was worth.

He won the first trick with dummy's seven of diamonds and carefully returned the deuce of clubs. This play assured the contract if East held both the king and the queen of clubs. Otherwise, the contract would still depend on the finesse.

HAD MISSING HONORS

As it happened, East had both of the missing club honors. When he played the queen of clubs, South won with the ace of clubs, cashed the ace of diamonds, and returned a low club to dummy's nine. East could take his king of clubs but could not then defeat the contract. If he led hearts, dummy's king would win a trick and allow South to discard the queen of spades.

If East led anything other than hearts, South could take the jack and ten of clubs to discard both of dummy's hearts.

Rules Saanich Responsible For Gordon Hd. Camp

Victoria will accept no responsibility in the matter of Gordon Head and Macaulay camps when the emergency shelter camps cease to be operated by Citizens' Rehabilitation Council Sept. 30.

Aldermen approved action of the Rehabilitation Council.

"If the people have resided a year or more there, do they not become the concern of Saanich?" asked Ald. J. D. Hunter.

"That's what I would think," said Mayor Percy George.

Ald. Percy Scurrah said he felt four or five years has given the people "plenty of time to obtain other accommodation."

"First and foremost it is not the responsibility of Victoria and secondly it has been running four years and I think Victoria has done a magnificent job on providing wartime houses and accommodation."

Cyril C. Crerar, who was given a sleeping pill by his doctor got into difficulties while driving his car and wound up in city court Tuesday facing a careless driving charge. Sleepy, he collided with a tree on Humboldt Street on Aug. 2. Magistrate H. C. Hall fined him $35.

ONE-HOUR VALET PLANT OPENING SUCCESS

Civic Dignitaries Approve Modern Plant Decor, Fast Service

"The novel institution which officially opened its doors yesterday at 1720 Douglas Street, is one of the most unique dry cleaning and shirt laundering establishments in Canada"—states a high civic official.

"The new plant is the most modern of its kind"—says an industrial engineer who visited with us.

"Fast service without extra charge—that's the theme of the brand new plant. We'll have the kind of service that the public wants—in the pleasing, friendly atmosphere they want to shop in. But our price policy is No Ups, No Extras for anything — and we'll never change that"—says a One-Hour Valet spokesman.

One-Hour Valet top management believes that the plant is ingeniously planned, and can cut down operating costs; this in turn holds down prices, permitting rapid service. Holding prices down in any kind of economic weather is a strong point with the One-Hour Valet management.

TASTEFUL DECORATIONS

The new plant is thoughtfully designed to cater to the desires of feminine customers. From the soft, pastel walls to the carefully coloured floors and specially designed and finished counters, and decor treatment; everything seems uncluttered, graceful. Shopping is easy and pleasant.

EASY TO USE

Not only has the store been designed from an aesthetic view point . . . One-Hour Valet management emphasizes practicality in its plant. The system of operation has been streamlined so that a customer can come in and out of the plant within a two minute period, making shopping swift, easy, up-to-date.

Stock room, wrapping table, assembling tables — and all the other silent service branches are cleverly placed close to the scene of action, to minimize trundling back and forth, and to eliminate customer delay. "This careful consideration of the customer's time, tastes and pocket book will undoubtedly lead to wide customer acceptance" — states a city official.

SUCCESS STORY

As customers poured into the new plant on Douglas Street, plans on other innovations were rapidly going forward. The whole program is part of a plan to enable everyone, everywhere, to have at their beck and call, quality dry cleaning and shirt laundering services at prices they can afford to pay in the rapidly growing City of Victoria.

Model Totems, Indian Baskets, Fascinate U.S. Visitors At Museum

Examining new collection of model totem poles at Provincial Museum is Miss Dorothy Lusk, Carlsbad, N.M. Totems were bought from retired Indian agent W. M. Halliday of Victoria. Collection is said to be one of finest in Canada.

Mrs. James T. Thickstun, Seattle, tries on Indian headgear. Native baskets were donated by Mrs. Alice McGregor, Victoria.

Better Lighting For Inner Wards

The area of Saanich formerly known as the inner wards will all be better lighted by the end of this year, Reeve Joseph W. Casey told a delegation at the council meeting Monday night.

This will be due to installation of street lights under the street lighting by-law approved by ratepayers last December. Roads not built at that time in sub-divisions would have to be lighted under the local improvement plan, the reeve explained to the war veteran home owners.

Seeking Tax Rebate

A rebate of a portion of its taxes or a cash contribution equal to the amount of such concession was sought from the city today by B. P. Fuller, president of Victoria Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, on behalf of property the society owns.

Saanich Troubled Over Pensioners' Tax Payments

Old-age pensioners who are having a hard time trying to meet municipal assessments on their homes and property should be helped by the government and not become a load for municipalities to shoulder.

That was the opinion of some councillors Monday night during reassessment talks when the aged $50-a-month home owner's problem was broached by Councillor J. G. Ryan.

"The old-age pension board should carry these people, not us," said Councillor Sydney Pickles.

City To Purchase Hypochlorinator

A hypochlorinator for sterilizing new mains before placing them in service will be purchased at a cost of $480 provided funds are available in the 1950 waterworks estimates, City Council decided Tuesday.

In the past the city has borrowed a hypochlorinator from the department of health, but as it is in the interior at present, the waterworks program would be delayed, council was advised.

U.S. NATIONAL AIR BORROWED BY CRUISER FOR ROYAL BIRTH

SEATTLE (CP)—The visiting Canadian cruiser Ontario faced a problem Tuesday when Princess Elizabeth gave birth to a daughter.

The ship had no band. Nor did it have a recording of the National Anthem to play during a 21-gun salute.

An appeal to the Seattle Public Library produced a record.

Only those who looked closely at the label knew it was really "My Country 'Tis of Thee" by the Boston Pops Orchestra.

Same tune as "God Save the King."

Favoritism Charge Draws Fire Of Mayor, Ald. Diggon

Charges by Ald. Waldo Skillings that the little man who came before city officials "had to toe the line, but if you are a big outfit you don't have to," raised a hue and cry at City Council meeting Tuesday.

He was referring to a letter from J. W. Oosterink, city building inspector, in which the latter suggested an annual inspection fee of $1 for owners of projecting signs and stated some concerns never took out the required permits.

"I understand the building inspector has had some interference in enforcing the by-law."

Ald. Harold M. Diggon, who was acting mayor for a period recently, jumped to his feet:

"If that is aimed at me I take exception. No one has told any official to lay off. Any official who says so, should have to come here and substantiate his statements.

"A deputation appeared before me and was given an opportunity to state its case. I will always do that."

At this juncture Mayor Percy George interjected: "I've yet to see where department heads have made fish of one and fowl of another. However the acting mayor has every right in the mayor's absence, to ask an official to mark time temporarily."

The matter was referred to public works.

Chicken Plague Here Relatively Small

Single poultry producers in Minnesota have lost as many as 250,000 chickens from Newcastle Disease which is playing havoc with the chicken industry of this province.

B.C. losses from the disease this year are small by comparison, though.

A total of 478,559 chickens have been destroyed as a result of the infection, most of them in the Fraser Valley.

Base Of Statue Worries Council

Fears that a foundation and erection of Queen Victoria's statue might "cost a small fortune at today's prices" was expressed by Mayor Percy George at City Council meeting Tuesday.

Realizing that in accepting the gift and in previous reports it had never queried cost of erection, aldermen agreed that the latest letter from Eire on the statue be considered by the parks committee, with a full report to be given council.

Ald. Frank Mulliner asked if the provincial government could not find a spot for the statue since it had so much room around the parliament buildings.

Hope To Avert Delays

Efforts are being made to avert delays in extending the government-owned P.G.E. railway from Quesnel to Prince George in the event of a strike of non-operating trades in Canadian railways Aug. 22. Officials have estimated 10,000 sacks of cement now being hauled to Quesnel will keep construction crews working until the middle of next month.

OPEN SUNDAY VOTE HOISTED

VANCOUVER (CP)—Ald. Archie Proctor's third attempt within a year to force a plebiscite next December on "open" Sundays in Vancouver ran foul of a technicality in City Council Tuesday.

A motion by the alderman, calling for the referendum, was temporarily blocked when Ald. Birt Showler called for a "notice of motion."

This means that discussion of the issue is hoisted until the next formal sessions of council Sept. 11.

Victoria Daily Times

VICTORIA, B.C., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 16, 1950

on the TIMES

By ART STOTT

Certain things in life you take for granted. Some of them are small, some are big. But you're so accustomed to them that you never give them a second thought. The fact that your afternoon paper arrives on the porch every weekday hardly makes a ripple in your consciousness.

You seldom think of the money that goes into its production, the effort that is spent on it every day, or that if it weren't for an efficient delivery system you might not have it for the evening's reading. The people up-island may be a little more conscious of the delivery. For over 20 years, up to last week, those who live on the highway have seen Rom Knott carrying the edition to points between Victoria and Nanaimo. In fair weather and foul, he ran up over a million miles in the Times service. That's mileage Figured in terms of distance from here to the moon, it works out at slightly better than two round trips.

Stott

KNOTT CAME TO this newspaper after a short experience in truck-driving and gas station work, on May 23, 1927. For a time he carried about 700 papers to Nanaimo in the days of the motorbike, before switching to the Sidney run that he handled for 11 years. Since then it's been the up-island schedule with a regularity that has left some of the farmers setting their watches by the time he passed their farms.

He's proud of his record. Even last winter, when the snow was two feet deep, he took The Times through.

Rom figures his average ride to Nanaimo took two hours and 20 minutes. On the 78-mile route, he drives close to the speed limit. But in 22 years he's been pinched only once. In 1927 he slid through Ladysmith a trifle fast.

IN THE MILLION miles he's put on speedometers, he's had three crack-ups. Once, on the wet wooden blocks before Broad and Broughton were paved, he skidded into the tail-gate of a truck on his motorbike. On another two-wheeler he bumped into a car that backed out of a driveway near Cobble Hill, and once, in the gravel near Extension, he was clipped by an oncoming car. No serious injuries resulted from the accidents.

Those are statistics. The run up-island with Rom Knott was something different. He drove with complete relaxation. When he was packing The Times he developed a pitch and aim that would be the envy of a bombadier. On the side roads, where country customers wait for their afternoon and evening reading, Rom could throw a paper onto a handkerchief while he breezed along at 50. He could drop a good percentage of his shots in the wooden boxes that yawn on trees or posts near farm gates. Practice made near perfection with that deft wrist-flicking delivery that was good from either hand.

MAYBE IT HELPED him in softball. He came out of retirement last year to help the team he managed for five years into its fifth city final.

But it wasn't all mechanics on Rom's weekday runs. He was more than a green car whipping along the road. Rom Knott was a hand waving in return to shouted salutes from dozens of residents from here to Nanaimo. Rom Knott was the heavy man behind the wheel, who made a split-second stop to unload a bundle of papers and hit the road again.

ROM KNOTT was the friendly guy who always seemed as if he'd like to stop and talk, but who never had time.

When he left the route last week, he could tell you a few things about the road from here to the hub city. He remembers the Malahat when it was an adventure for most drivers, a winding scenic road, with lots of beauty for the sightseer but little comfort for the man at the wheel. He knows it now as a smart stretch of highway that's getting safer and easier to drive every year. He has a wholesome regard for the white lines that add to safety and make a sure guide on foggy evenings.

Rom has, too, a few home-made rules for driving: Keep your eyes open and watch the other guy. Don't try to outguess him. Just figure he's going to do the unexpected.

The boys at the Times appreciate the job Rom did. They wish him well in his new connections with the Sidney Freight.

Joint Complaint To Be Made By Labor Councils

Vancouver and District Trades and Labor Council has decided to join the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council in protesting to the Minister of Labor the present method of conducting government-supervised strike votes.

The Vancouver Council Tuesday night authorized its executive to plan with the Victoria Council's executive presentation of their complaint.

The Victoria Council two weeks ago today decided to protest the strike-vote procedure on grounds that it is "weighted against the unions."

The council's action stems from the recent government balloting of Victoria carpenters. The council has taken exception to the method of having employees of each firm vote separately and their ballots counted separately so that if one group votes "no" while all others vote "yes," that single group cannot legally strike.

The council claims this procedure could cause illegal strikes and put B.C.'s labor legislation in disrepute.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY

A plea of not guilty was entered by Roy Baker, 631 Pandora Avenue, in city police court today to a charge of careless driving. He was remanded to Friday for trial.

An accident this morning at Blanshard and Johnson Streets caused damage to cars driven by George E. Casson, 2781 Winston Crescent, and Paul T. Gregorash, 1139 McClure Street, city police reported.

No Increase Forecast In Hospital Insurance Rates

Prospects are bright for no change in hospital insurance premiums next year.

Rates for 1951 are expected to be announced by the government within the next two weeks and no change from present rates is anticipated although the government has the authority from the legislature to raise the present maximum for families from $33 to $36 a year.

It is believed the increase will not be necessary because of a reduction in administration costs since the reorganization of the hospital insurance service under Commissioner Lloyd Detwiller, along with improved collections of premium payments.

The service has prosecuted about 300 persons for non-payment of premiums.

In this connection there has been a change in regulations. Persons late in paying must wait one month after making late payment to become eligible for benefits. Up to now the commissioner has had power to allow this rule to be waived under special circumstances. There will be no waiving of the rule in future.

Okanagan Fruit Plentiful

Okanagan fruit is becoming more and more plentiful on the market. The valley's first pears are expected to arrive in town on Monday, with cantaloupe due to follow.

There is a good supply of Washington cantaloupe now on the market and prices are reported to be down considerably.

Preserving peaches are still plentiful. Peaches will become scarce in a week and will stay that way until September when there will be a good supply of Elberta-type peaches from Colorado.

California plums are expected to be replaced shortly by locally grown. Local corn and cucumbers are now becoming plentiful.

Permit Given For $27,180 Garage

A permit for erection of a $27,180 service station and garage at the northwest corner of Johnson and Blanshard Streets was issued by the city building inspector today to Shell Oil Co. of Canada Ltd.

Luney Bros. and Hamilton are the contractors.

Ratepayers of Victoria West forwarded a resolution to City Hall today in which they asked that Tyee Camp be closed not later than Dec. 31, 1950.

Estimates Of Number Of Men Quitting Force Exaggerated

Only 5 Per Cent Refuse To Wear R.C.M.P. Scarlet; Others Coming

The talk last week of large numbers of provincial policemen finding other jobs rather than joining the R.C.M.P., which took over the policing of the province Tuesday, is proving to be exaggerated.

Latest official reports state 24 members of the B.C. force, which disbanded in its 93rd year, have rejected enlistment in the national force for continued service.

Discussions among the men, following announcement last week of conditions of employment under R.C.M.P. jurisdiction indicated more resignations than 24.

Estimates of the number of policemen in the 550-man force who would quit police work because of the transfer ran to as high as 10 and 20 per cent. The number who have left amounts to about 5 per cent.

R.C.M.P. officers from other parts of Canada will be arriving in the province during the next few days to take the place of the former provincial force men who have quit.

TO MAINTAIN STRENGTH

The 550-man strength of the provincial body will be maintained, and in addition there will be about 150 mounties stationed here previously on narcotics control and other federal police work.

Victoria division of the provincial force will continue to be headed by Insp. G. H. Clark.

Within the next week, officers who transferred from the provincial force to the mounties will be fitted for new uniforms. There will be no other major changes in kit. Provincial arms will continue to be used.

On the uniforms, the men will be given the names of local tailors, with whom they will deal personally.

CITY ENTRIES FOR P.N.E.

Two more Victorians have received word that their entries have been accepted in the Pacific National Exhibition, to be held in Vancouver Aug. 23 to Sept. 4.

Alice Mae Bell, 3165 Kingsley Street, and Fritz Mueller-Sorau, Saanich, are both entered in the International Hobby Show. Miss Bell has sent over pictures in black and white and leathercraft, while Mr. Mueller-Sorau has entered handwoven pictures.

Good Pay For Most Administrator Posts In Province

Official administrator positions offered nine B.C. police officers forced to retire when the R.C.M.P. took over policing of the province pay more than "a few hundred dollars" a year.

It was learned at the Legislative Buildings today there are one or two official administrator posts where the pay averages around $700 to $800 a year, but the majority bring commissions of between $2,000 and $3,000.

"And," it was stated, "with the constantly growing population there comes an increase in the number of estates for administrators to handle."

With the exception of Victoria and Vancouver, where the administrators are paid a fixed salary, five per cent of the estate handled is received by the official administrator.

800 LBS. OF LEAD STOLEN

Nearly 800 pounds of lead worth $144, was stolen from the text book branch of the B.C. Department of Education, Menzies Street, during the last few months, city police have been told by the R.C.M.P.

Victorian Faces Two Cheque Charges

Frank Guiney, young Victoria man, was charged with two counts of cashing forged cheques when he appeared before Magistrate A. I. Thomas in city police court today. He was remanded to Friday.

Ronald J. Grant, as counsel, pleaded guilty to a charge against Guiney of being intoxicated in a public place.

Sentence was reserved on the request of Claude L. Harrison. No bail was allowed. Guiney is alleged to have cashed the cheques with Page the Cleaner and the Empress Garage.

Logging Dispute Conciliator

A conciliation officer has been named in a dispute which has threatened to tie up the logging industry in the southern interior of the province.

The Labor Relations Board announced today A. C. A. Baker, Kelowna, will endeavor to affect a settlement between the approximately 1,200 workers and operators of logging camps and sawmills.

In dispute are requests from the employees for a union shop, a 17 cents hourly wage increase and changes in hours of work.

INSURANCE FINES

Earle F. Kaye, 3050 Jackson Street, and Lee Leong Lee, 1618½ Government Street, paid prepaid fines of $5 each for failing to pay hospital insurance premiums on the due date, the small fines list of the city police court showed today.

$35 FINE BUT STILL CANNOT TELL DETAILS

Maude A. Christie, 95 View Royal Avenue, pleaded guilty in court today to a charge of careless driving.

C. L. Harrison, city prosecutor, explained she had been in collision at View and Blanshard Streets on Aug. 4. Damage was not extensive and no one was hurt.

Magistrate A. I. Thomas then fined her $35.

"But can't I say something," asked Mrs. Christie.

She wanted to tell her story about how it happened.

"It won't do you any good," said Magistrate Thomas and he closed the case.

Victoria Man Advances In Seniors' Golf

A. S. G. Musgrave of the Victoria Golf Club pulled a mild surprise in the quarterfinals of the 28th annual Seniors' Northwest Golf Association tournament at the Oak Bay links today by defeating 1948 champion Gerry McManama of Seattle, 4 and 3.

Musgrave took a seven-stroke lead on the sixth and held it through the match. He won the 11th and 13th to go five up. The match ended on the 15th green when hole was halved in fives.

Defending champion Ralph Whaley of Seattle had a terrific struggle before eliminating fellow Seattleite, Roy Campbell, one up. Whaley was two down to Campbell at the 10th but rallied to square it up at the 15th and took his first lead with a birdie three on the 16th.

Ed Eisenhower of Tacoma whipped former Walker Cup player Dr. O. Willing of Portland, 7 and 6. Roy Wood of Portland and K. C. Allen of Vancouver were square at the 13th.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL

Girl, 16, Good Student, Makes Friends Easily But Doesn't Value Them. Has Lightning Moods Of Resentment; Why?

Dear Mary Haworth: My problem is a 16-year-old daughter, I'll call her Janet. We own our own home, which is a two-family house, have a car. We don't have a lot of luxuries, but we have much to be thankful for in the way of health, family stability.

Janet is attractive, makes excellent progress in school, also makes friends readily. And here is the trouble. She just doesn't value friendships. It seems that those who are most sincere, girls or boys, mean least to her.

She has no respect for any person's feelings. She may be full of pep, happy and cheerful one minute, and in a flash she changes and is ugly and resentful. I would be most grateful if I could find out what is behind all this. How do you explain her behavior? And what is your advice for me.

K. C.

SOURED BY EXCESSIVE CARE

Dear K. C.: It appears that Janet is the victim of too much maternal indulgence, plus too much maternal supervision. In plain words, she has been extremely spoiled, humored and coddled, or so her symptoms indicate. That is why she places little value on devotional tribute and, in fact, tends to fight manifestations of affection.

There are assiduous mothers and you may be one, whose pleasure consists in trying to anticipate their child's every wish, in order to bestow all possible happiness, every day in the year. And these mothers are always on the alert to promote the child's success or secure his safety, with a helping hand or a dose of good counsel.

This maternal striving to please might not be too damaging to the child's disposition if it weren't accompanied, as it usually is, by the tireless inescapable protective activity. It is this exhaustive aggression in the child's domain that galls him emotionally, quite without his knowing what he resents.

The well-meaning mother doesn't guess what's wrong either; so she continues to confuse his efforts at self expression, while he develops (unconsciously) a "low boiling point" in consequence.

MOTHER SHOULD CHECK HERSELF

That's how I figure Janet's flash tempers, that blaze unpredictably at her "most sincere" friends. Inasmuch as their affection for her somewhat approximates your devotional interest, those relationships tend to evoke in her much the same feelings that she has for you. And perhaps she dares be openly more hostile with her friends than with you—on the theory that friends exist in endless supply, whereas a mother happens only once.

For advice, get acquainted with your own behavior in relation to Janet. Don't take for granted that "mother knows best." Become watchfully aware of what you say, think and feel, and also how you act, where she is concerned. Do this to discover if you are everlastingly supervising her every move, or trying to—and using emotional pressure, such as cajolery or threat of disapproval, to maintain "control" of her. If you've been at fault in this respect and the majority of fond parents are, you can greatly help Janet's disposition by allowing her spirit more room in which to breathe.

TODAY'S RECIPE

HAM, CHEESE PINWHEELS

Ingredients: 5 slices of boiled ham, about ½ inch thick; 2 3-oz. packages of cream cheese; 1 5-oz. jar of blue cheese cocktail spread; ½ teaspoon onion juice.

Method: Soften both cheeses to room temperature. Beat cream cheese with fork until smooth and fluffy. Gradually beat in blue cheese. Stir in onion juice. Divide into five portions, spread on ham slices and roll tightly, jelly-roll fashion. Wrap individually in wax paper or aluminum foil and place in refrigerator for at least four to six hours. Just before serving, slice in ¾-inch slices. Recipe makes 30 pinwheels.

Shredded tender carrots, crisp celery and plump raisins mixed with mayonnaise make a delicious filling for summer sandwiches. Put them together just before time to eat so the filling will stay crisp.

Chilled brandied canned cling peach halves served with chewy almond macaroons make a delightful summery dessert. Pour the brandy over the peaches and chill several hours before serving.

Raisins and other dried fruits are plenty useful for summertime cookies, salads and muffins. When the weather becomes hot and muggy take them off the pantry shelf and store them in the refrigerator.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

In some newspaper interviews with children on the subject of money, it was interesting to notice how few of these children had regular allowances. A few had, but most of them earned money by washing dishes, or just by being given small suns when they needed them.

This is what might be expected of a subject upon which parents have such varied viewpoints. Not all of them would handle money the same way.

But, allowances are the best means of teaching children the use of money. They are not an indulgence, as some parents seem to think, but are educational.

The child with an allowance knows exactly what he can and cannot spend. His allowance should be scaled to his needs so that he does not become a spendthrift through having too large a one; nor a miser because he has too little.

Children of school age should be able to manage from five to 10 cents during their first year of school. This cannot be expected to take care of their Sunday School money—which should be exclusive of their allowance—but will be able to give them some experience in spending. That is what they learn first.

The parsimonious child might want to do more work than was available in order to earn more money. The sepndthrift ditto. But the child who cares little for money would refuse tasks so that he might not be confronted with the responsibility of his earnings. To attach money to home tasks may bring about situations the mother would find difficult to handle.

So the consensus remains that an allowance, unrelated to home tasks but related to the child's needs and capacity to manage, is the method best calculated to teach him the meaning and values of money.

Our leaflet No. 76 "Allowances for Children," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Consumers' Association Try Explain Why Beef Now Expensive Delicacy

OTTAWA (CP)—It may seem cold comfort to the housewife on a slim food budget, but the Canadian Association of Consumers has uncovered a few explanations why meat—and particularly beef—has become a rich man's dish.

Complaints about meat costs from women across Canada moved the 12,000-member association to investigate the situation and ask the meat boys themselves for an explanation.

The Industrial and Development Council of Canadian Meat Packers blame heavy consumer demand.

United States consumers have been prepared to pay prices for beef and lamb which have forced Canadian levels upwards. Canadian consumption has been maintained in spite of increasing prices.

The council also claims that "insufficient beef stocks to take care of the seasonal demand for processed meats have resulted in a higher level of prices for all classes of cattle. There is nothing unusual in the price situation for meat that is not attributable to the normal reaction of the law of supply and demand."

The Canadian Federation of Agriculture says the high price of beef is "due entirely to a very abnormal demand from the U.S. for both beef cattle and dressed beef, because of the failure of the U.S. cattle population to keep pace with the growing demand for beef products."

The Consumers' Association quotes a statement from a retail merchants' association bulletin which claims that, since the lifting of the embargo on beef exports to the U.S. two years ago, there has been an increasing volume of best quality cattle and calves leaving the Canadian market.

Canadian herds are yielding a progressively smaller percentage of good grade cattle, leaving a greater volume of poorer quality for home consumption.

The bulletin continues: "Exports from Canada provide our farmers with much better prices than would otherwise prevail for beef cattle. They also provide Canada with extra income in American dollars, but these advantages are obtained at the expense of the consumers, who, as a result of cattle exports are required to pay much higher prices than otherwise would be the case."

"Nor can the Canadian government be expected to close off the U.S. market for Canadian beef, in view of the vital need for Canada to build up its U.S. dollar balances. Export of beef cattle and beef is one of the really important mediums by which Canada can accomplish this."

And there you have it, girls—the reason why that Sunday roast has become almost as much of a delicacy as caviar.

An informal pose of Mrs. Wallace taken in the music room of "Devonia," the family home in Vancouver. Pictures are of her four sons, all in the R.C.A.F. during the war. Richard and Philip, twins, are in the centre, David on the left and Blake, who was killed overseas, nearest his mother.

Mrs. Clarence Wallace Has Friendly Manner, Main Interests, Family, Home

By ELIZABETH FORBES

When Victoria meets a new chatelaine at Government House in October, it will find she has a friendly charm and a natural dignity of manner.

She is tall, stands easily erect, and walks with a long graceful stride.

Her hair is medium brown and cut short in a conservative styling of the prevailing mode. Her eyes, greenish-grey, twinkle understandingly under full rather drooping lids and her smile has a little upward slant at the left corner of her mouth that brings out a shadowy dimple.

Her speaking voice is clear with many warm undertones and a firm, quick hand shake gives one a feeling of being truly welcome.

She says that although she has relatives and friends in Victoria she has not visited the city often, and then adds, "but I know I'd like living there."

A FAMILY WOMAN

I found all this out when I flew to Vancouver this week for an interview with Charlotte Wallace, wife of Clarence A. Wallace, lieutenant-governor-to-be of British Columbia.

I also discovered that Charlotte Wallace doesn't like to talk about herself. But she will talk for any length of time about her family.

And if she comes to Government House next October she is looking forward to introducing that family to the capital city.

Mr. and Mrs. David Wallace, (the former Miss Bobbie Golding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Golding, Vancouver) have two children, Susan, four and Andrew, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wallace (the former Joan McKeen, daughter of Senator and Mrs. S. S. McKeen) a small daughter Heather.

There is another son, Philip, who is unmarried.

ROOTS DEEP IN B.C.

Charlotte Wallace talked too, about her attractive Vancouver home "Devonia," far out on the south slope off South Granville Street.

"It was built by Mr. Wallace's father, Andrew Wallace," she told me, "there were no other homes out this way at that time and the grounds extended much farther than they do today.

"Two generations of Wallaces have grown up here," she said proudly, "and now the grandchildren are here so frequently they make a third."

We were sitting in the attractive music room at "Devonia" where wide windows look out across a sun deck to green lawns and beyond to a colorful swimming pool, steam-heated, and a patio with sun umbrellas, lounging chairs and a huge stone barbecue.

Tennis courts spread to the right, bright flower beds to the left, and down the slope at the back of the pool, trees concealed the stables.

"Some years ago we kept riding horses here," Mrs. Wallace said, "polo ponies, too. And the family played polo on a stretch below the stables.

"Now, with so many houses around us, bridle paths have disappeared. The family have given up polo, so we keep the horses up at the shooting lodge."

That shooting lodge is in Silver Valley, in the Pitt River district above Mission. And it is here that many Wallace family gatherings are held during the fishing and hunting season.

"Only please don't say I hunt or fish," Mrs. Wallace admonishes, "I'm afraid I don't do either."

But if she is not sports-minded, Charlotte Wallace has other interests outside her home and family that take her time and energy, foremost among them being the Marpole Infirmary, where she has been an active member of the women's auxiliary since it was formed many years ago.

Once a year "Devonia" is turned over to that auxiliary for a mammoth garden party with proceeds used for work at the infirmary.

"Devonia" has also been opened to many other organizations for charitable affairs.

WAR WORK

During the years of the last war Charlotte Wallace also found time to act as supervisor at the R.C.A.F. Hospital on Marine Drive. (Her four sons were in the R.C.A.F. One, Blake, was killed overseas and another was a prisoner of war.)

Her eyes twinkle reminiscently as she tells you that Mr. Wallace, ("Clarie" she calls him) worked with the Navy League and formed and helped to operate a club for merchant seamen during the war.

"You can see that airforce blue and navy were the colors that predominated around this home during those years," she says.

That was more than true, for the doors of "Devonia were never closed to members of the three services and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace were tireless in entertaining there for homesick young men and women, long miles from homes.

The chatelaine-to-be of Government House was born in Vancouver, Charlotte Hazel Shaw. She grew up in that city, attended Crofton House School, was married there in 1916. And the years of her married life have been spent there.

She is a member of the exclusive Georgian Club, oldest women's club in Vancouver and with her husband belongs to the Royal Vancouver Yacht Club.

CHARMING HOSTESS

At the family home, the Silver Valley shooting lodge, and aboard the Wallace yacht, Wallithy, she has been a charming hostess to personal friends and to many distinguished visitors.

Of recent years she has traveled extensively with her husband. Two years ago on a tour of the British Isles and Western Europe, this year to Jamaica and the British Isles, with many shorter trips to Eastern Canada and United States and to California, thrown in for good measure.

She lists as her hobbies, interior decorating and landscape gardening, and "Devonia" rooms and gardens bear silent witness to her talent for both.

Miss Evelyn Connor who will change her name to Mrs. John William Turkington in a wedding ceremony this month, was entertained at a party shower by Miss Evelyn Roberts, 339 Arnot Avenue. Gifts were wheeled into the room on a decorated tea wagon and corsage bouquets of gardenia and sweetheart roses was presented to the honor guest. Her mother, Mrs. E. E. Connor, and Mrs. J. W. Turkington, mother of the groom-elect, received sweetheart roses. Other guests included Mesdames E. Turkington, M. Roberts, T. Thompson, L. Mottershead, G. Pashley, Pearce, and Misses V. Roberts, G. Pashley, Beverley Bell, E. Pearce and Doreen Robinson and Dorothy Craig.

Miss Edith Ravenhill is receiving congratulations and best wishes from a host of Victoria friend, on the occasion of her 90th birthday. She is celebrating the day quietly with her elder sister, Dr. Alice Ravenhill, 857 McClure Street.

19th Hostess At 'The Castle'

In the 79 years since Confederation in 1871, there have been 16 first ladies in British Columbia. If Mrs. Wallace comes to Government House she will make the 17th.

Prior to 1871 there were two hostesses at "the castle," the first, Mrs. Kennedy, wife of Arthur Kennedy, Governor of Vancouver Island, and the second, Mrs. Seymour, wife of Frederick Seymour, who was governor in 1866 when British Columbia and Vancouver Island became one.

Julia Elizabeth Lady Trutch, an American by birth, was hostess when her husband, Sir Joseph Trutch was lieutenant-governor from 1871 until 1876. Mrs. Albert Norton Richards, Mrs. Clement Francis Cornwall and Mrs. Hugh Nelson, followed in chronological order.

Then came the dainty and petite Mrs. Edgar Dewdney, born in Ceylon and a friend of Lady Macdonald, wife of Sir John A. Macdonald. Mrs. Dewdney was followed by Mrs. Thomas Robert McInnes and she in turn by Lady Lobiniere, wife of Sir Henri Joli Lobiniere.

In 1906, Mrs. Dunsmuir, daughter of an Illinois planter, came to Government House with her husband, James Dunsmuir, the eighth lieutenant-governor of the province.

She was followed by Emma Elizabeth Riley, only daughter of Senator George Riley and wife of Hon. T. W. Paterson, then Mrs. E. G. Prior, Lady Barnard, who was chatelaine during the years of the first world war, and Mrs. Walter Cameron Nichol.

From 1925 until 1931 the nieces of Lieutenant-Governor Randolph Bruce acted as their uncle's hostesses. First, Mrs. Julian Piggott, London, Eng., the former Helen Mackenzie, who was married at Government House during the Bruce regime and then Mrs. Hobart Molson, formerly Miss Margaret Mackenzie. Mrs. J. W. Fordham Johnson was next chatelaine followed by Mrs. Eric Hamber and Mrs. W. C. Woodward.

Mrs. Charles A. Banks has held the position for the past four years.

Now comes Charlotte Hazel Wallace, named "a charming hostess" by her many friends in Vancouver. A British Columbian by birth, and with a sincere interest in people, she should add much to a dignified and gracious station.

BY-LAW BLUES

Aldermen Seek Light In Garage Ruling

Aldermen had the by-law blues at City Council meeting Tuesday.

An amendment was introduced for the gasoline service station closing by-law which council just passed two weeks ago. Ald. Skillings immediately arose to ask why.

The amendment got its initial passage.

"I would think the by-law itself would be defeated by this amendment," he said. "The whole idea was to provide some 24-hour service for the general public. Now the amendment would close the stations Wednesday afternoon, Sundays and holidays."

Ald. Harold M. Diggon explained that the amendment was needed only because of legal phraseology. It called for per- the 24-hour stations Wednesday afternoon, Sundays and holidays."

The change, he said, was required because the city had no right in its by-law to conflict with the already existing provincial government's Weekly Half Holiday Act.

"Do the garages open or close?" asked Ald. Percy B. Scurrah, groping for some light in the wordy amendment.

No definite answer was given to this but the inference was that the workings of the original by-law would not change, only the phraseology.

"Our by-law was drafted by an outside solicitor and I asked the city solicitor if that was not his job," Ald. Skillings said. "He replied no. I asked him if the by-law would hold up in court and here three weeks later there are three loopholes."

Both Mr. Patton and Mayor Percy George took exception to this statement.

"The law has been changed and the provincial government suggested these changes," Mr. Patton said. "It is not a question of being lax and I resent it."

Seek Rezoning For Drive-in Cafe

Re-zoning of property on Quadra Street north of Kings Road and Quadra from apartment to commercial was asked by Ainslie Worthington in a letter received at city hall today.

If the request is granted Mr. Worthington said he planned to erect a drive-in curb service, coffee bar and booths.

Entertain Veterans

Patients at the Veterans' Hospital were entertained by "The Stardusters" dance orchestra, with a program of modern and old time music. Artists were: Mrs. O'Neill, Ernest Coughlan, Douglas Nelson, Jack Jackson, Timothy Sinclair, and guest artist Grace Nelson. Many request numbers were played.

Alderman Scores Navy League Lease

Forrest Shaw Categorically Denies Skillings' Charges

Complaint that Forrest L. Shaw, chairman of Victoria Branch, Navy League of Canada, "tied the city up" for 20 years with regard to Prince Robert House lease, was voiced by Ald. Waldo Skillings at Tuesday's City Council meeting.

A letter was read from Mr. Shaw, a former city solicitor, in which he advised the city that the Navy League's agreement with the city on Prince Robert House could be renewed for another 10 years from March of 1951 if the league so wished.

The city has already advertised the property for sale, after rejecting a $48,000 bid from a holding company said to represent interests of Woodwards Stores Ltd.

"It was too bad council was not advised of this clause before it advertised," Ald. Skillings said.

He told the meeting the Navy League paid $125 a month rent and if the property were in commercial hands, the city would net $2,362 in taxes annually.

"Forrest Shaw was employed by the city and was also interested in the Navy League at the time that lease was drawn up," Ald. Skillings contended. "He was acting in a dual capacity. He certainly did not act in the interests of the city."

"It's my understanding under the Municipal Act, that no council can tie the hands of future councils."

He urged that the city try to revoke the option of lease renewal or "appeal to the Navy League of Canada on a higher level," with a view to presenting a brief at their October conference in Toronto.

Shaw Statement

S. B. Marshall, a director of the Victoria branch of the Navy League, told the Times today that he had been in communication with Forrest Shaw, who is out of the city on vacation, and that Mr. Shaw "categorically denies that he had any connection with the Navy League at the time the lease was drawn."

"Mr. Shaw did not, in fact, join the Navy League until 1946 in any capacity," Mr. Marshall declared. "Nor was he city solicitor at that time, having given up the post in the spring of 1945.

"The lease was actually drawn by Forrest Shaw, on instructions of the then mayor, and was passed by council.

"I feel that it is most unfair that a man devoting his time to public service without remuneration of any kind should be attacked in this way."

By long-distance telephone from Klitsa Lodge, Sproat Lake, Mr. Shaw authorized Mr. Marshall to write a letter to Mayor Percy George protesting the statements of Aldermen Mulliner and Skillings.

Deal On Track Up To Saanich Rules City

The city of Victoria has no power to grant a nine-month option to the B.C. Turf and Country Club Ltd., who have tentative plans for a racing track at Gordon Head airpark.

At its meeting Tuesday afternoon City Council heard a report from City Solicitor A. J. Patton on the matter and aldermen agreed it was not up to the city, but to Saanich to voice opinions and policy first.

"We would expect another municipality to give us that treatment, it's the least we can do," said Mayor Percy George.

Mr. Patton said an option would have to be obtained from the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council. Secondly, re-zoning of the lands in Saanich would be necessary and Victoria has no power there, he said.

Approval of the Dominion government would have to be obtained by the city and an offer of sale back to the government be made first, he added.

"At the present time the city cannot enter into an agreement with these parties along the lines they have asked for," Mr. Patton said. "However negotiations might be continued to endeavor to meet conditions satisfactory to both parties."

EVERY DAY IT'S ROTTEN EGGS

H. Ellis, 2953 Shakespeare Street, is getting annoyed at the practice of a 10-year-old boy and asked the city police yesterday to talk to the lad. Mr. Ellis said that nearly every day the boy throws paper and rotten eggs at his house.

Arena Costs $1,015,719

Victoria's Memorial Ice Arena has cost the citizens to date $1,015,719, according to a statement showing expenditures on construction and equipment of the arena up to July 31, presented to City Council meeting Tuesday by J. H. B. Watson, comptroller-treasurer.

The city has supplied $978,938 and the arena commission out of its earnings, the sum of $36,780.

Still remaining in the arena by-law bank account is the sum of $23,588, according to Mr. Watson.

"There is neither a deficit nor a surplus showing," he said. "This is just a statement of position."

Included in the statement are disbursements of $32,987 to C. T. Hamilton, consulting engineer for fees and $3,210 for traveling and sundry expenses. A further $10,000 owing Mr. Hamilton is contained in the $23,588 held in the special by-law bank account.

Council Approves Derby On Yates

The Knights of Khorassan were granted permission to hold the annual Labor Day Soap Box Derby on the Yates Street hill from 8 to 12 noon by City Council Tuesday.

J. W. Oosterink, city building inspector, will attend the B.C. and Alberta Chapter of Pacific Coast Building Officials Conference in Vancouver Aug. 25-26.

The city will purchase a steam cleaning unit for $941 and a hoist for $431.

A grant in the amount of 1950 taxes on the Chinese Public school property on Herald Street was authorized for payment.

Thugs Get $4,000

MONTREAL (BUP) — Two bandits escaped with an estimated $4,000 from a west-end branch of the Royal Bank of Canada Tuesday after slugging the manager and firing a shot to ward off pursuit.

The pair, both carrying revolvers but not masked, fled in a car waiting at the side of the bank, situated at Monkland and Harvard Streets.

They entered the building shortly after it opened. One thug headed for the teller's cage and the other ran into the manager's office.

ALBERTA OIL REPORT

Courdasun Well Proves Spring Coulee Locations

By C. V. MYERS

CALGARY—A Turner Valley-type oilfield appeared to be developing in the Spring Coulee area of southern Alberta Tuesday as National Courdasun No. 1 gave up light green oil mixed with drilling mud on drill stem test.

The well tested the 50-foot zone 6,142 to 6,192 feet and got a rise of 200 feet of fluid about three quarters of which was light green crude of the same type as the National Malmberg, three miles to the north.

Core analyses showed the porosity to be much the same as in Turner Valley. In the valley, field drill stem tests often fail to show any results.

Dixon Kelly, managing director of Centennial, said pipe would be set at 6,142 feet and the entire 50-foot zone to 6,192 feet jet acidized. He said the well had proved up a minimum of 50 locations between the Malmberg discovery and Centennial.

The Centennial well is three miles due south of Malmberg.

Neither Kelly nor Hyde would guess at the size of the well but they said there was no doubt that it would be commercial and it might be large.

SURE SHOT

This made the National Calvan Tower well look like a sure shot also. It is situated on the same structure and is about 50 to 60 feet higher than the Malmberg well midway between the two wells and about half a mile to the east.

All wells are located on the same structural trend which runs a distance of more than 20 miles from the Montana border into the Blood Indian reserve southwest of Lethbridge.

The structure was being tested 11 miles to the southeast of Malmberg by National Cordasun Milk River No. 1. The Milk River well hit the lime at 5,162 feet Tuesday afternoon.

The National Calvan Tower well was ready to resume drilling at 5,745 feet Tuesday night. It was slated to start coring late Thursday or Friday morning.

MARKET REVIEW

Stocks Rise On Major Exchanges

TORONTO — Steady buying pulled all groups higher on the Toronto Stock Exchange. Most gains were held to fractions in the industrial list, which touched a 13-year high.

MONTREAL—Prices increased steadily near the final hour on the Montreal Stock Exchange and curb market. The market moved hesitantly in the early hours, but improved considerably as the session progressed.

NEW YORK—A rising stock market picked up momentum in the afternoon. Demand for railway issues started the market on its way after a period of morning hesitancy. Buying soon spilled over into other groups, notably aircraft and oils.

LONDON—Less favorable war news from Korea led to a continued rise in tin prices to all-time records.

Rubber rallied sharply. Japanese bonds, gold shares and some other sensitive sections of the London Stock Exchange turned easier.

Lumber Exports Keeping Ogden Point Dock Busy

Close to 4,000,000 board feet of Vancouver Island lumber will be loaded aboard freighters for various parts of the world at Ogden Point and Cowichan Bay during the next five days.

The Greek freighter Nicolaos G. Kulukundis, which arrived in port Monday, is undergoing repairs to her rigging at Victoria Machinery Depot before proceeding to the Outer Wharf to load 817,000 board feet of lumber destined for South Africa and Portuguese East Africa.

Another Greek vessel, the Tanagiotis Coumantaros, is due Thursday to load 870,000 feet of lumber for the U.S. Atlantic seaboard.

The British freighter Caledonia Monarch is expected the same day to take on 400,000 feet of lumber for the United Kingdom.

Fourth vessel coming to Victoria to load lumber this week is the Greek freighter Crete, expected about Friday.

Three ships scheduled to load at Cowichan Bay this week are the Lake Kamloops, to take on 700,000 board feet for the Atlantic seaboard; the Lake Chilliwack, to load 365,000 feet for Belgium, and the Langleygale, to carry 300,000 feet to the United Kingdom.

Death Said End Of Karen Revolt

RANGOON (Reuter)—Military quarters here Tuesday said they believed the death of Sau Ba U Gyi, Karen rebel chief, meant an end to the 14-month-old rising by Karen tribesmen in Burma.

The Karen chief was killed with Capt. Davis Vivian, former British army officer, and an English adviser named "Baker," in a battle with Burmese government forces in a village near the Siamese frontier.

Betrayed by Karens loyal to the central government, they were surprised while completing plans to flee to Siam on elephants.

IN MEMORIAMS

STRANIX—In loving memory of our dear husband and father, William H. Stranix, who passed away Aug. 15, 1949:

The years may wipe out many things,
But this they'll wipe out never,
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.
We think of him in silence,
His name we oft recall,
But there's nothing left to answer
But his picture on the wall.
Just when his life was brightest,
Just when his hopes were best,
God called him from among us,
To a home of eternal rest.

—Ever remembered by his loving wife and family.

$27 Million Plant To Be Producing Early Next Year

The new $27,000,000 high alpha cellulose plant of Columbia Cellulose Co. Ltd. near Prince Rupert is expected to go into production early next year.

This was learned from Harold Blancke, president of Celanese Corporation of America, the parent organization, who recently inspected the plant and its 600,000 acres of timber land reserved to the company under a forest management license.

All of the buildings of the plant are now under roof and closed in and machinery and equipment is being installed.

U.K. Car Production Increased By 100,000

LONDON (Reuter)—British automobile manufacturers have turned out 100,000 more cars in the first six months of this year than the same period last year—itself a record year. The British society of motor manufacturers and traders Tuesday put the six-month output at 262,500 cars and 135,000 trucks and buses. Australia remained the biggest customer, taking 70,000 cars. Canada tripled her imports to buy 38,500.

Use War Fogs Against Polio

LONDON (AP)—British doctors today used war-tested insecticide fogs in their fight against an infantile paralysis outbreak which so far has hit nearly 1,400 persons in the United Kingdom.

Machines developed in the Second World War were employed to fill infected homes with a fog of DDT and Pyrethrum and to spray ponds and other areas with the insect-killing mixture.

The Ministry of Health described the outbreak as "serious" but said it was not yet at an epidemic stage. The number of confirmed cases stood at 1,388, nearly double the number reported at the same date last year. Deaths this year from the disease were 195 against only 83 to Aug. 15, 1949.

2 Killed In Truck Crash

CHELMSFORD, Ont. (CP)—Two members of a family were killed and a third critically injured Tuesday night when a truck in which they were riding crashed headlong into a passenger train at a level-crossing near this town, 10 miles south of Sudbury.

The dead: Leo Demore, 20, of Capreol township, and his 34-year-old sister, Mrs. Angeline Bratant of Hanmer. Critically injured and in hospital here is Norman Demore, 23, brother of Leo.

Cruise Ship Smoulders After Fire Which Took Three Lives

Smouldering wreck of 7,000-ton cruise ship Quebec lies in Tadoussac, P.Q., harbor after tense half-hour race against fire in St. Lawrence River. Three passengers, a mother, father and son, were believed lost, but 400 passengers and 150 crewmen escaped. Ottawa officials have ordered inquiry into blaze.

North Koreans Demoralized By Air Strike

Confusion Reigns Behind Lines

TOKYO, Thursday (UP)—A record bombing assault by 101 American B-29s demoralized a force of 40,000 to 60,000 Communists massed before the provisional capital of Taegu, first reports on the results of the great air strike said today.

The Superfort fleet poured 850 tons of bombs on Korean troops in a 26-square-mile box along the Naktong River yesterday. Air scouts surveyed the blasted area later and saw only scattered bands of Communists running about in confusion.

The bombardment eased the pressure on the Naktong River defences guarding the west side of the Allied beachhead in Korea. It enabled the G.I.'s to throw enemy patrols back across the stream at some points, and to send their own patrols over the river to examine the damage.

NO SIGN OF PUSH

More than 12 hours after the big air strike there was no sign of the long-predicted Communist offensive on the approaches to Taegu.

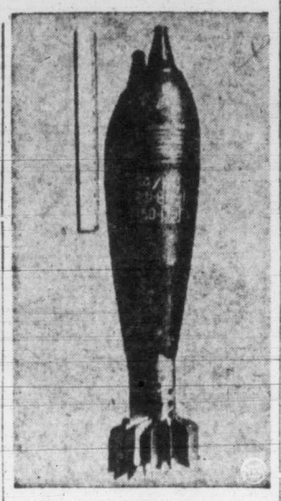
Just across the Naktong from the bombed area, American troops recaptured Waeban, a river town 12 miles northwest of Taegu. The Communists had sent a heavy patrol across the river at 4 a.m. Tuesday and it seized Waegwan. It also routed the Yanks from nearby hills where they had been guarding the battered town rather than try to occupy it continuously.

Strong U.S. patrols returned yesterday and rooted out the Communists. United Press correspondent Robert Vermillion reported that the G.I.'s set up communications into Waegan, indicating they expected to stay this time.

OPTIMISM ON NAKTONG

A note of optimism came into reports from the Naktong front, where the U.S. 24th division was battling several thousand Communists in a pocket at the elbow of the river southwest of Taegu.

Maj.-Gen. John H. Church, commander of the division, said he felt "very hopeful" about the situation. He said the quality of the North Korean forces was inferior to that of a few weeks ago, but the enemy still had not quite run ou gas.



Used By Invaders

Though Russians claim North Koreans are using munitions left two years ago when Soviet troops pulled out of Korea, U.S. has evidence that North Korean forces are using newly-made Soviet supplies. Above is photo of Russian 120-mm. mortar shell, dated 1950., obtained intact in South Korea. Its type has been used extensively by the Red invaders.—(NEA Telephoto)

Victoria Commander Of 2nd Ship Praised

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's destroyer Cayuga has carried out a successful bombardment of harbor installations of a Communist-held port in South Korea, the navy announced today.

It was the first official report that the three-ship flotilla provided by Canada for the United Nations has fired its guns at enemy positions. They had been on convoy duty.

The navy said the Cayuga, senior ship of the three, joined a British frigate in pouncing on a harbor and blazing away at ships, docks, cranes, warehouses, railway rolling stock and rail terminals and large buildings.

There were no casualties. All targets were either destroyed or seriously damaged.

Of other activities, the navy made this report:

Recently the Cayuga, under Capt. J. V. Brock of Victoria, was ordered to make a high-speed sweep in the western area to investigate a reported build-up of enemy troops. The Athabaskan, commanded by Cmdr. R. P. Welland of McCreary, Man., and Victoria, intercepted orders while at sea and without specific instructions, joined her sister ship and assisted in the sweep. Cmdr. Welland was later commended for his initiative in this action.

The Sioux, under Cmdr. Paul D. Taylor of Victoria, and the Athabaskan are at present engaged in screening Royal Navy forces carrying out a blockade patrol off the west coast of Korea.

The Sioux recently completed a trip to Pusan, main U.N. supply port in South Korea, with a high-speed convoy. The Athabaskan has completed three voyages to the same port on similar duties. The Cayuga has carried out two such missions and has spent four days with the west coast blockading forces.

FOUR STAR FINAL

Red China Aid If N. Koreans Pushed Back

TAIPAI, Formosa (AP)—Chinese Nationalist reports said today that Russia and Communist China have agreed that the Chinese Reds will throw 150,000 troops into the Korean war if the North Koreans are pushed back to the 38th parallel dividing North and South Korea.

The unconfirmed reports also told of a Moscow-Peiping pact to resort only to infiltrative methods instead of open invasion in southeast Asia "so as to avoid the outbreak of a new world war at present."

Recent arrivals from Red China were quoted as saying the two pacts grew out of a reported visit to Peiping by Russia's vice-premier, V. M. Molotov.

The Russian is reported to be in full charge of Soviet expansion in the Orient.

40,000 Sent To Korea By U.S.

WASHINGTON (UP) — More than 40,000 military personnel have been moved from the U.S. to Korea since the Communist invasion, a U.S. Navy spokesman said today.

The spokesman told a Pentagon briefing that the Military Sea Transport Service, operated by the navy, had also moved more than 1,500,000 tons of cargo and more than 2,000,000 barrels of petroluem.

The 40,000 military personnel included army, air force, marines and navy men.

'EERIE HOWLING'

Faces Trial In Stabbing Of Woman

VANCOUVER (CP) — An "eerie continuous howling" during a desperate struggle in which a woman was beaten and stabbed and a man allegedly stabbed himself, was described in police court today when Magistrate H. H. Orr committed Alexander Bernard Cameron, 41, for trial for attempted murder.

Cameron sat with bowed head throughout testimony which included a statement by Mrs. Carman Elizabeth Ryan, 33, whom he allegedly attacked with a piece of lead-filled hose and an ice pick July 4.

Witnesses described finding Cameron on the floor of Mrs. Ryan's apartment with an ice pick protruding from his chest and his face covered with blood.

Mrs. M. R. Carey, whose suite adjoins that of Mrs. Ryan, said she heard a continuous howling "which I thought was either little boys on a street playing Indians or someone hitting a dog."

U.S. Pacific Coast Dockers Ask Big Boost

NORTH BEND, Ore. (UP)—Caucus delegates of Harry Bridges' C.I.O. longshore union today voted to demand a 10 per cent across-the-board wage increase for 16,000 Pacific Coast dock workers when the union's contract becomes open for wage negotiations Sept. 30.

The economic issue temporarily sidetracked a series of maneouvres of right and left wing elements of the union on the question of repudiating Bridges' 16-year-old leadership and his politics.

The Bridges' battle probably will reach its peak late today when the caucus of 90 delegates, meeting at North Bend, Oregon, considers a San Francisco waiting bosses' resolution demanding that Bridges resign either his honorary presidency of the Communist-dominated Maritime Federation of the World or his union presidency.

Another contest was anticipated on another agenda item concerning government's port security screening program designed to eliminate "bad security risks" from the Pacific Coast's war-busy ports.

Thus far, Bridges' strategists have gained and held the upper hand in their parliamentary campaign to keep Bridges' heretofore unassailed leadership intact.

Bridges is held in a San Francisco jail as a convicted perjurer and a menace to American anti-Communist military action in Korea.
